$2,000,000 Rental Annually Offered For Shoals Power

Chief of Army Engineers Declares He Would Want Fifty-Year Lease From U. S., However.

STATEMENT MADE AT HOUSE HEARING

Byrns Shows That $2,000,000 Would Be 4 1-4 Per Cent On Government's Investment.

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—Major General Taylor, chief of army engineers, would be willing to take over operation of the government's properties at Muscle Shoals, if congress would give him all he could make above $2,000,000 annually. He would ask no additional compensation.

His proposition in this regard became known with making public hearings before the house appropriations committee on the first deficiency supply bill reported to the house today.

Asked by Chairman Madden of the committee as to possible earning power of the plant when completed, the general replied:

Makes Proposition.

"That would depend entirely upon the use that is to be made of the power and the kind of lease we could make, largely upon the length of lease and other conditions. If congress would give me a free hand to make a lease for 50 years, and if they would give me what I could make over $2,000,000 a year, I would be willing to work without any other pay."

"Of course, I assume," Madden continued, "that we will dispose of any power that is generated there to anybody that is willing to take it away and has the facilities for taking it at such rates as we are able to get under a temporary contract."

"Yes, sir, I do not think we should ever attempt to go into the retail disposal of power," the general said. "We have no facilities for that."

Only Temporary Agreement.

"Will we dispose of the power we generate at such rates as we are able to get under a temporary agreement, without having any binding obligation on us to continue that, until final legislation is enacted disposing definitely of the property?" asked Mr. Madden.

"Absolutely," General Taylor replied. "My arrangement with the Alabama Power company is such that I could tell them today, You will get no power tomorrow,' or 'You will never get any power after this,' without incurring any liability whatever."

"There would be no further obligation."

Definitely Understood.

"No obligation at all," answered General Taylor. "It is all definitely understood. I told them, moreover, that if congress does not dispose of the plant at this session, it becomes evident that the power will be available to them for several months. I expect to get that power at two mills per kilowatt hour, provided I can let them have it for six months. It is going to be worth more than two mills per kilowatt hour. On a year's term, it would be worth more than that. The longer the term I can give them, the more it is worth."

Get Over $2,000,000.

Representative Byrns, democrat, Tennessee, said:

"As I figure it, if you derive a revenue of $2,000,000, you say you

SOUTH BEND FIRE CAUSES BIG LOSS, FIREMAN KILLED

While the downtown fire was burning a blaze destroyed the Standard Oil company office building in the southeast section of the city with a loss of $300,000.

John Devleschower, captain of a fire company, was killed when blinded by smoke he fell from a building. Two other firemen were injured.

The origin of the downtown fire, which was discovered at 2 a. m., is unknown. Sparks carried by a high wind are believed to have set fire to the Standard Oil building.

EARLY PASSAGE OF TAX MEASURE BELIEVED REMOTE

Controversial Issues and Amendments Pour Into Hopper as Senate Debates Revenue Bill.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, February 1.—Prospects for passage of the senate tax bill by the end of this week, as hoped by those in charge of the measure, have became very dim as debate begins on controversial issues and amendments pour into the hopper.

No material progress was made on the bill Monday, its fourth day in the senate, and it appears that the first controversial issue, surtaxes, will not be settled for perhaps two days.

The bill was opened to the surtax schedules Monday. Those in the senate bill are different from those written by the house, but no action was taken. The senate devoted itself to other business for two hours, and when the tax bill was taken up, Senator King, Utah, democrat, began a speech that lasted nearly two hours longer, with other interruptions, and he was followed by Senator Couzens, Michigan, republican.

Both Couzens and Senator Norris, Nebraska, republican, who are leading the opposition to certain features of the bill, said they regarded it almost impossible to finish the bill by the end of this week, because of the number of amendments offered and the number of speeches which are scheduled.

As a result it appears that some of the tax bill will be written at night, as Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, has announced that he will ask night sessions if the bill is not finished this week.

Senator King, in his lengthy prepared speech Monday, did not confine himself to surtaxes, but enlarged generally upon his minority report, opposing repeal of tax publicity, abolition of estate taxes and of the gift tax, and advocating repeal of automobile and admission levies. King favors a rescaling of surtax rates on incomes between $22,000 and $100,000. He also announced that he would offer an amendment raising the maximum surtax rate from 20 per cent at $100,000 to 25 per cent, if Senator Simmons, ranking democratic member of the finance committee, does not do so.

This schedule of surtax rates prepared by King and one being framed by Norris are the alternatives to those who do not favor the committee rates. Norris' schedule will make alterations on incomes from $60,000 up, and will raise the maximum to 30 per cent at $200,000, he told the United News Monday. The Nebraska senator does not look for a vote on the surtax provision, however, until Wednesday.

Crown Prince And Ex-Kaiser In Love Feast

Doorn, Holland, February 1.—(AP)—Profiting by the first day of the abolition of the visa betwen Germany and Holland, former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany arrived here this morning and passed through the village unobserved to his father's chateau.

The meeting betwen the former emperor and his son was very touching, for it was the first time in more than two years that they had seen each other. William embraced his son and was unable to master his emotion, but the former crown prince displayed his usual gaiety.

Princess Hermine, who previously had made visits to Frederick William at Oels, is reported to have greatly facilitated the reconciliation, which, owing to the prince's attitude in militaristic and monarchist quarters in Germany, had been deemed impossible.

It is thought, however, that the principal reason for the reconcilition is to be found in the matter of the settlement of the royal property which, rumor says, President von Hindenburg has promised will be favorable to the former royal families, and that a meeting of the members of William's family at this place is to discuss this subject.

The police guard around the chateau has been doubled.

ETHEL BARRYMORE COMPROMISES SUIT ON TOOTH FOR $850

New York, February 1.—How much is it worth to have a tooth filled?

Lots, when it hurts, but hardly $850, Ethel Barrymore insisted. The actress refused to pay a bill for that sum presented by Dr. John J. Jaffin, who filled one of her molars. The dentist took his case to court.

When the case came up Monday the judge was informed it had been settled out of court, Miss Barrymore paying $450 and costs.

POLICE COMMITTEE SPONSORS MEASURE

Hartsfield Declares Atlanta Has Never Given Police Department Help It Needed.

An appropriation of $1,000 to "increase the efficiency of the police department in ferreting out crime" was voted by city council at its session Monday afternoon on motion of Alderman W. B. Hartsfield, of the third ward, who is chairman of the police committee of council.

The amount, it is said, is to be used in employing special men to aid police.

A lively discussion followed introduction by Alderman Hartsfield of the measure, Councilman Harry York demanding of Alderman Hartsfield to explain whether this appropriation was to supplant the one he requested several weeks ago for the purpose of employing "spies and stool pigeons to harass members" of the police department.

"It is not," retorted Alderman Hartsfield, who claimed that criminals kept tab on movements of regular police officers, and the idea of the appropriation was to obtain help for them.

Alderman P. L. Moon then asked if members of the plainclothes department could not be trusted to accomplish the work Hartsfield had in mind for the employment of special parties.

"Any pure and refined city government provides such a fund from time to time to ajd the police department, and Atlanta has never helped its law enforcement agency to this extent and it is time it was doing so," Alderman Hartsfield answered.

"This measure was sponsored by the entire membership of the police committee and I have said everything I care to say about it. It is now up to the remainder of the committee to support the measure," Alderman Hartsfield said, as he retired from the floor.

Other members of the committee then rallied to the support of the measure and it was carried by a viva voce/ vote.

AMERICAN LEGION DRIVE IS STARTED

More than 200 legionnaires attended the dinner at the chamber of commerce Monday night, marking the opening of the biggest membership campaign in the history of Argonne post of the American Legion.

The feature address was delivered by W. D. Hoffman, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, who strongly advocated the legion's participation in civic affairs, pointing out the good it could accomplish by stressing the necessity of better roads. He also referred to the beneficial influence which the legion has exercised on the city, state and the nation at large. Mr. Hoffman's talk, which tended chiefly to encourage the legion to take an active part in civic betterment rather than "politics," was enthusiastically applauded.

John M. Slaton, Jr., chairman of the membership committee, who presided, directed especial attention to the efforts Argonne post is making to secure the 1928 national convention for the city of Atlanta. He welcomed this opportunity as a means of showing the many advantages of Atlanta and the southeast to delegates from all over the country.

Frank B. Saunders, commander of Argonne post, encouraged members to cooperate as far as possible with civic organizations in bringing about much-needed improvements. Mentioning the fact that Georgia ranked 25th in state membership of the national legion, he insisted that the present drive should place the empire state closer to the top. He also pledged the legion's efforts in stimulating greater interest in voting and better accommodations in general hospital 48.

"Fuzzy" Woodruff expressed his belief that Atlanta's membership goal would be exceeded.

A dance by Miss Bessie Florence and several selections by the American legion band under the leadership of John Scharf enlivened the program.

The American legion is aiming at one million members of which Argonne post has been allotted 2,000. The drive is scheduled to come to a close Friday, at a luncheon at Henry Grady hotel. A gold button was awarded to Frank Kempton for having first completed his organization for soliciting new members.

Before the close of the meeting, Chairman Slaton read a letter from Mayor Walter A. Sims, expressing confidence in the post's ability to reach its goal and succeed in its fight for the 1928 national convention.

Groundhog Will Search For His Shadow Today

:: ELUSIVE MARSUPIAL TO MAKE ANNUAL TEST ::

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Today is a day which is not lettered in red on calendars; it's a day that is of no moment to kings, imperial potentates, movie queens, section bosses, grand opera prima donnas, leading homerun hitters, patent medicine manufacturers, Charleston dance teachers, Florida realtors, baseball umpires and other arbiters of destiny. But to legions of horny-handed sons of the soil, particularly in this favored land of Dixie, it's a day fraught with omens and dire possibilities.

It's Ground Hog Day.

That elusive marsupial known as the ground hog to just plain folks, but known as "marsupiolios felicitas" to weasened savants who delve in dry documents in dust-covered college libraries, is due to meet his annual test today. This test, according to time-honored custom, is to determine whether or not we shall have six weeks more of winter in good old Atlanta.

If the ground hog sees his shadow today he will return to his hole and we will have six weeks more of winter.

If the ground hog does not see his shadow and stays out to burrow around under a cloudy sky we will have an early spring.

That's the tradition and it commands the implicit faith of most of our folks, but C. F. von Herrmann, local weather forecaster, doesn't take any stock in the ancient belief. Mr. von Herrmann has a lot of instruments of some kind which he plays with a while and then tells what kind of weather is coming, but he ain't in it with the ground hog as a forecaster, according to some of our oldest inhabitants.

Clear weather is predicted for Atlanta today although the early morning hours are expected to be chilly, according to Mr. von Herrmann.

1,000 GUARDSMEN TO PROTECT NEGRO ON TRIAL TODAY

All Communication With Outside World To Be Cut Off to Prevent Any Disturbance.

Lexington, Ky., February 1.—(AP). Lexington slept calmly tonight while khaki-clad soldiers marched upon the city. Tomorrow, Ed Harris, negro, will go on trial for his life, which the state now protects with 1,000 soldiers, and which it will demand he forfeit in the due process of law.

He has confessed to the murder of Clarence Bryant and his two children and to an attack upon Mrs. Bryant, wife and mother of the victims, and the state will ask that he be hanged for the crime. Meantime, to protect him, martial law conditions will prevail, if not actually declared during the brief time he will be on trial tomorrow.

All Traffic Stopped.

Lexington will be a beleagured city, insofar as outsiders are concerned. Military orders will be enforced if necessary with gun butts, bayonets, tear gas—or bullets in extreme cases. Interurban cars, motor busses and private cars will be stopped at the outskirts of the city, where triple guards will be maintained throughout the day to prevent any possible outbreak such as occurred several years ago.

Business in the heart of the city will come to a standstill. The banks, seven of which are in the restricted area about the courthouse, will be closed, and business houses will be devoid of customers.

Trial To Be Brief.

Tomorrow, 13 days after he almost wiped out the Bryant family, Harris will be brought here from the Frankfort reformatory, where he was taken for safe-keeping, for trial. The court procedure is expected to be brief. Harris has confessed to crimes with which he is charged, and it was understood among counsel appointed for him by the state that he will plead guilty. A jury will be called. A few witnesses, among them Sheriff Fuller, to whom Harris confessed, will be called and the case will go to the jury. That is the plan of the prosecuting attorney.

Today was like almost any other in this blue grass city. No crowds gathered, no soldiers were in sight, and no "tense situation" ruffled the peaceful surface. Confident that the hapless defendant will receive the extreme penalty, the citizens are awaiting the trial.

NEW TRIAL GIVEN TO MAN 3 TIMES SENTENCED TO DIE

Columbia, S. C., February 1.—(AP)—Edmund D. Bigham, under his third sentence of death for the murder of his brother, L. Smiley Bigham, Monday was granted a new trial by the South Carolina supreme court.

He also is facing charges of murdering his mother, his sister and two adopted children of the latter. The tragedy took place at the Bigham homestead near Pamplico, in Florence county, on January 15, 1921.

Written by Associate Justice Watts the opinion was unanimous, all other members of the court concurring. Separate concurring opinions also were written by Associate Justice Marion and Acting Associate Justice Purdy.

The decision marked the end of the sixth phase of the case that has come before the supreme court. Bigham has twice been convicted by juries. The first time was in Florence shortly after the crime, while the second, from which the latest appeal was taken, was in Horry, in October, 1924.

About thirty exceptions were noted by the defense in connection with the second jury trial. One of these was based on the sudden death of a prosecution witness, George J. Steele, before the defense had a chance to cross-examine him. Among other exceptions were several that related to the cross-examination of the defendant by Phillip A. Arrowsmith, who assisted Solicitor Gasque in the prosecution.

Famous Case.

Edmund D. Bigham's legal fight for life has been unparalleled in the recent history of South Carolina jurisprudence.

Twice convicted by juries of the murder of his brother, L. Smiley Bigham, this 40-year-old son of the late State Senator M. M. Bigham, has heard the death sentence passed upon him three times in the last five years. His case has been before the state supreme court six times, twice on appeal from verdicts of the lower courts, and four other times on various motions.

The crime for which Edmund Bigham was given the death penalty was

:: IN LOVE THREE YEARS, SAYS DESERTED WIFE ::

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Jersey City, N. J., February 1.—Convinced that the thing she has feared for three years has happened, Mrs. Eugenia Wills, 37, of this city, waited despairingly tonight for police to find her daughter, Elsie, 17, and the girl's step-father, Culbert E. Wills, marine engineer.

Wills, who is 41—but boyish, gay, magnetic, a traveler of the seven seas—walked out of his wife's apartment at 11 o'clock last Friday morning. Two hours later, Elsie, Mrs. Wills' daughter by her first marriage, disappeared, taking her wardrobe with her. Mrs. Wills believes her husband and her daughter have eloped.

She fears they may be on a ship bound for tropical waters. It is her theory that possibly Elsie has disguised herself as a boy and gone to sea with her step-father.

In the hope that she may recover her daughter, Mrs. Wills appealed to the police, who have broadcast a description of the missing man and girl. After listening to Mrs. Wills' story, authorities expressed the opinion the pair had made careful plans to depart together.

"For three years I have known my husband was in love with my daughter," said Mrs. Wills today. "I reproached him. We quarreled frequently over his pronounced attentions to Elsie.

"I talked to Elsie. She, too, denied that other than a natural affection existed between them. Then she turned against me. She fell completely under his influence. And he, in turn, was completely dominated by her. Both of them ignored me, neglected me, even insulted me.

"I was not jealous of my daughter. I simply wanted to protect her. I was so afraid something might happen to her."

Mrs. Wills married Wills, an Englishman, 12 years ago in New York city. Elsie was then 5.

The deserted wife and mother wants her daughter back. But not her husband.

"If we find Elsie with him," she said grimly, "I intend to see that he is punished, if he has done anything to warrant punishment."

MITCHELL MILD IN NEW ATTACK ON AIR POLICIES

ANNOUNCES TOUR TO COMBAT EVILS

BY FLOYD GIBBONS

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, February 1.—William Mitchell's opening broadside against the war department general staff, issued tonight, reiterates in comparatively mild terms the charges and accusations which the "flying colonel" has made previously, and which led up to his demotion and conviction by court-martial and the acceptance of his resignation.

Spokesmen of the army general staff, when acquainted with the contents of Mitchell's statement, declared that they were surprised at its mildness, inasmuch as they had expected a much more severe outburst when Mitchell felt that the gag of military discipline had been removed from his mouth.

Supporters of Mitchell declare, however, that today's statement is only an opening salute in comparison with the bombs which will be touched off when the colonel opens his nationwide lecture campaign in Carnegie hall, New York, February 10. He is scheduled to speak in Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Detroit, Columbus, Dayton, Cleveland and Milwaukee, and in Chicago.

Text of Statement.

"My resignation from the army, effective today, concludes a service of nearly 28 years.

"It began as a private in the First Wisconsin infantry in 1898 and has been followed through the Spanish war and Cuba, the Philippine insurrection, in Alaska while building the first telegraph lines and opening up the country, in the San Francisco catastrophe and along the Mexican border. The first wireless telegraph and the first automobiles in our army were developed in my organization. My

WATER RATE CUT IS POSTPONED

Council by Vote of 14 to 12 Declines to Put Proposed Ordinance on Final Passage.

Decrease in the water rate of Atlantans amounting to more than $300,000 annually was freely predicted Monday following passage on first reading of a measure looking toward this end by city council. Second reading of the proposal, which would have made the cut effective February 10, met defeat by a vote of 14 to 12, but this only tables the matter until the next regular meeting of council, February 15.

Alderman Ashley, chairman of the water committee of council, urged adoption of the revised schedule, saying that it would cut water assessments of Atlantans between $300,000 and $340,000 for the year, and that this loss in revenue would be offset by increase in business and prosecution of fi fas now pending.

"We propose to allow 800 cubic feet as a maximum consumption at the minimum rate instead of the 500 feet now allowed for the small consumer and to cut the cost for the wholesale consumer about 15 per cent," Mr. Ashley said in outlining the resolution.

A motion by Councilman Allen to refer the measure to the finance committee of council for a recommendation failed by a vote of 16 to 14. The first reading was approved vy a viva voce vote.

In opposing the motion to refer the bill to the finance committee for a report, Councilman Russell declared that water rate reduction plans had been referred to the 1925 finance committee several times, but that it had never returned the papers to council.

Dr. C. J. Vaughan declared that council "is honor bound to reduce the rate."

"It is time we quit pussyfooting around and did something with this reduced rate we have been talking about for many months," Councilman White said in favoring adoption of the report of the water committee.

Youthful Couple Die in Love Pact Near Buena Vista

"Love Was Cause of It All," Says Note Addressed to Boy's Mother Signed by Initials of Pair.

BODIES ARE FOUND IN PARKED CAR

Family Objection to Marriage of Draneville Couple Believed Factor in Double Tragedy.

Columbus, Ga., February 1.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict that O. T. Chalkley, 18, shot and killed Miss Anna Lee Welch, 24, and then turned the pistol upon himself, inflicting fatal wounds, while the couple were seated in an automobile near Buena Vista, early today. The verdict was to the effect that the suicide had been planned in accordance with an understanding between the pair, said to have been sweethearts.

Funeral services for the victims will be held jointly tomorrow morning at Union church, in the Draneville community.

Families Objected.

Objection to their marriage, expressed by parents of the couple, is believed by friends of the pair to have led to the killing and suicide, although neither had intimated that they proposed such steps in the event their marriage could not be carried out. Both were residents of Draneville, in Marion county.

The bodies of Chalkley and Miss Welch were found early today in the front seat of an automobile parked on the Draneville road about eight miles from Buena Vista. Examination showed that the young woman had been shot through the heart and apparently had been instantly killed. Chalkley had a bullet wound just below the heart, where a .38-caliber pistol ball had passed through his body. The pistol which snuffed out the lives of the two lovers was held tight by Chalkley in his right hand which rested on the lap of Miss Welch.

The automobile had been parked at the side of the roadway.

A note, said to have been penned by the young man, was found in his pocket. It read:

"Mother, don't lay this on anybody but me. Do what you want to with my body and the rest. Please put us side by side, for love was the cause of it all. Good-bye. Your son, O. T. C." Just beneath the initials of Chalkley on the note were those of the young woman—"A. L. W."—believed to have been written in her own handwriting.

It was understood here that the couple had been friends for several months and had made arrangements to marry, but were prevented from this course by objections voiced by both families, who were neighbors near Draneville, living about a mile apart. The spot where the double suicide was enacted was about halfway between the homes of the two young people.

Employed at Americus.

Miss Welch in recent weeks had been employed in Americus at a 5 and 10-cent store. The last time the young couple were seen together was in Buena Vista Sunday night, where they stopped at a cafe. This was said to have been between 10 and 11 o'clock.

Following the finding of the bodies, Judge M. B. McCrary was notified and a coroner's inquest held later in the day.

Chalkley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Chalkley, of Draneville, and Miss Welch the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Welch, of the same community.

TEXAS PAPER SUED BY 'MA' FERGUSON FOR ALLEGED LIBEL

Head of the Anti-Saloon League Also Made Defendant For Attacking Her Dry Record.

Belton, Texas, February 1.—(AP)—Suit for $100,000 against Atticus Webb, of Dallas, and the American Publishing company, of Austin, publishers of the Austin American and the Austin Statesman, was filed here late today in the Bell county district court by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson.

The suit is the result of publication of an article in the Sunday American-Statesman on December 13, 1925, in which the record of Governor Ferguson in the enforcement of the prohibition laws of Texas was attacked.

Paragraph Is Cited.

The following paragraph was cited: "If she (meaning Governor Ferguson) really wants to catch the rich bootleggers, I suggest that she employ Captain Frank Hamer and B. A. Baldwin, whom she dismissed from the ranger force for pestering rich bootleggers in south Texas."

Webb is superintendent of the Texas Anti-Saloon League.

The petition charges that the item was malicious in its intent, and that it was for the purpose of injuring the reputation of the governor.

Actual damages to the amount of $50,000 were sought and $50,000 additional as exemplary damages.

The governor and her husband are represented by A. L. Curtis, of Belton. The case probably will be set for trial at the March term of court, it was said at the courthouse.

FERGUSON DENIES CHOICE OF MANAGER.

Austin, Texas, February 1.—(AP)—James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, today denied that he had selected Ben J. Flood, of Dallas, to manage his campaign for governor in 1926, as stated in the Dallas News Sunday.

The former governor would not indicate whether he would be a candidate, but there appears to be a growing conviction among Texas politicians that either Mr. Ferguson or his wife will run.

In her campaign for nomination last year, Governor Ferguson announced that if elected, she would not be a candidate for reelection.

"I have not seen Flood for some seven or eight months, and have had no communication with him, and should I take a notion to run for governor, I will give out my own interviews," said Ferguson.

Chickens Win In Hot Fight Against Foes

Straying Fowls Will Not Make Owners Amenable to Law.

Following a heated debate Monday council declined to make owners of straying chickens guilty of misdemeanor by adding the barnyard fowl to the list of hogs, cows, mules and other animals now included in the ordinance. The amendment was introduced by Guy Dobbs, who declared he was prompted in his action by complaints lodged with Acting Chief of Police E. L. Jett.

Councilman Harry York declared that it was the duty of council, to enact laws to "prevent murders but that if such a foolish ordinance were favored by council and anybody attempted to bother chickens of citizens of my ward, there would be murder in the air."

When Councilman Couch attempted to introduce an amendment, including jay birds and fleas in the city law, Alderman Buchanan refused to allow him to speak, ruling him out of order.

DURKIN IDENTIFIED AS ROBBER OF BANK FROM PHOTOGRAPH

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—Martin Durkin, Chicago gunman and slayer, recently captured in St. Louis, has been identified from photographs as the man who robbed the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles on January 12. Identification was made by a private detective agency.

It was also stated that jewelry found in his posession and in the possession of his wife, the former Irma Sullivan, had been identified as among the loot taken by a burglar who invaded several Los Angeles homes about the same time.

M'READY PLANS RECORD ATTEMPT WITHIN TEN DAYS

Dayton, Ohio, February 1.—(AP)—Next attempt by Lieutenant John A. Macready, McCook field flyer, to regain the world's altitude record will be made within ten days, officials at the field state today.

Before such flight is made a complete report of his flight made last Thursday, when he reached an altitude of 35,800 feet, will be studied. Failure of the super-charger to function properly prevented Macready from reaching a higher altitude.

Farm Extension Progress Outlined In Sessions Here

Increased activity was reported in all phases of the farm extension work conducted by the Georgia State College of Agriculture, at the meeting of the Southern States Agricultural Extension Workers which opened a three-day session at the Ansley hotel Monday.

J. Phil Campbell, director of extension work at the state college, stated in his report that it had been the most successful year since the beginning of Smith-Lever work in the state and that the service had reached a larger number of farmers the past year than ever before.

A summary of the report shows that county agricultural agents held 5,546 demonstration meetings during the year with a total attendance of 71,541 interested farmers. These meetings were held in the interest of soil improvement, reforestation, farm crops, horticulture and other farming activities.

During the year county agents distributed more than 60 carloads of vetch, the report shows, and improved practices on 15,266 farms in the matter of soil improvement were recorded.

During the past year 10,763 boys were enrolled in various clubs.

Eight hundred and fifty girls' clubs were organized in the state during the year, it was stated, and an enrollment of 10,595 was reported. The estimated value of the products grown by the members was given as $253,451.54.

WOMAN QUALIFIES AS COURT BAILIFF

Meridian, Miss., February 1.—(AP) Woman occupied a new field here today when Mrs. Bettie Blanks qualified as a bailiff at the opening of Lauderdale county circuit court.

WORLD COURT ACTION GESTURE, SAYS HOUSE

Houston, Texas, February 1.—(AP) America's entrance into the world court is a mere gesture now, Colonel E. M. House told newspaper reporters here today.

"We have no more privileges now than we had before we entered. As a non-member we were able to sit in the councils and listen. As members we can do just that thing and nothing more," he said. "Actually we are little further than we were before."

Colonel House was an unofficial representative of President Wilson during the world war.

"But the psychological effect of the world court will be a great thing," he said. "To the masses of the people it means that we have entered something like the League of Nations. It is a step in that way, and it allows the leaders to release their efforts toward a more active entrance."

Experience Not Necessary To Enter Oratorical Tests

An inexperienced school orator has just as good a chance of winning one of the seven national first prizes in the national oratorical contest among high school students, which is sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution, as the student who is already regarded by his schoolmates as one of their "best speakers."

This is the assertion of Randolph Leigh, director of the contests, who reached his conclusions after analyzing the types of boys and girls who were among the 14 winners in the two previous years that the contest has been staged.

"Of these fourteen national finalists," Mr. Leigh said, "only five had been regularly identified with forensic activities in their schools prior to their participation in the national oratorical contests. Three had not even intended to take part in this contest at the beginning, becoming interested only when their teachers, impressed by the literary excellence and rhetorical quality of the essays handed in by them on the subjects specified in the contest, urged them to try for the highest honor."

As in past years, the first elimination contests will take place in the individual high schools. The school winners will then take part in the district contests, and each of the 12 district winners in Georgia will then come to Atlanta for the state finals. The Constitution offers prizes of $15 each to the 12 district winners and first and second prizes of $100 and $20 in the state contest.

The Georgia champion will go to Kansas City for the zone finals. The nation is divided into seven zones and each zone winner, in addition to taking part in the national finals at Washington, will be given a complete tour of Euroe, all expenses paid.

The orations must all be original and be delivered in ten minutes. They may be on any one of the following subjects: The Constitution, Washington and the Constitution, Hamilton and the Constitution, Franklin and the Constitution, Jefferson and the Constitution, Marshall and the Constitution, Madison and the Constitution, Webster and the Constitution, Lincoln and the Constitution, America's Contribution to Constitutional Government.

Youth Who Killed His Boy Friend Is Given Freedom

Following his exoneration in recorder's court Monday afternoon of blame in connection with the fatal shooting Sunday of fourteen-year-old Harold Johns, J. P. Thacker, 16, left the courtroom in company with A. L. Johns, father of the slain youth, and who by marriage on the day of the tragedy became the brother-in-law of the youthful prisoner.

Thacker's acquittal followed testimony by Cecil Johns, 8-year-old brother of the boy who was killed, and a small negro boy, Jesse Glosson, both of whom were in the room at the time of the shooting. They testified that Harold and the Thacker boy were tossing an automatic pistol in the air and catching it as it fell, each trying to see which would grip it the quickest.

"They had been whirling the pistol several times and when it came Thacker's time again, the weapon exploded as he gripped it," they told the judge. The safety catch on the revolver is believed to have slipped while being handled and Thacker's finger, striking the trigger as he gripped it, caused it to fire.

Mr Johns, father of the boy who was killed, told Recorder A. W. Calaway that he had thoroughly investigated the affair and was convinced that it was an accident and asked the release of young Thacker.

Thacker and the two Johns boys, Harold, who was killed, and his eight-year-old brother, Cecil, had been left alone at the Johns home, 126 Estoria street, Saturday evening when Miss Lucile Thacker, brother of the boy who held the weapon that killed Harold, left Atlanta for Etowah, Tenn., to join Mr. Johns, who left on his run as a brakeman on a freight train early that morning. Mr. Johns and Miss Thacker, unaware of the tragedy here, were married in Etowah Sunday—a short while after young Harold had been mortally wounded.

The body of Harold was taken to the undertaking parlors of Harry G. Poole. Funeral arrangements had not been completed late Monday night.

122d Infantry Prepares For Annual Inspection

Completion of arrangements for the annual inspection and discussion of plans for spring and early summer training of the 122d infantry, national guard regiment, featured a meeting of officers of the regiment Monday night just preceding the regular weekly drill period at the Auditorium-Armory.

Colonel Charles H. Cox, regimental commander; Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Oberdorfer, Jr., executive officer, and Captain Robert B. Ennis, junior instructor for the Georgia national guard, assigned by the war department to assist Colonel J. M. Kimbrough, senior instructor, made brief talks concerning the training program.

Although definite details of the new uniform for the regular army and national guard were expected, exact specifications and formal approval of the war department still are lacking. The new uniform, it is said, is more on the order of the English army uniform and very similar to the uniform now worn by officers of the United States air service, including the roll lapel instead of the present high, closed collar blouse.

Preparations for the annual inspection are being completed and company commanders were cautioned Monday night by Colonel Cox to be prepared to stand a rigid inspection. Regular officers annually inspect national guard outfits and in last year's inspection the Atlanta regiment came in for much favorable comment by inspectors.

The usual number of requests for transfers, recommendations for promotions in the enlisted personnel and special order demands kept Captain Frank Maloney, adjutant, and his staff busy.

EXTRA SESSION PLAN FAVORED AT MARIETTA

Marietta, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The extra session program of the Georgia legislature soon to be convened, as outlined here today by Governor Clifford Walker, received practically unanimous indorsement of the large audience that crowded into the courthouse to hear his speech. At the conclusion of his speech a rising vote was taken, and it appeared to be generally unanimous.

The governor appealed for better educational advantages for the youth of the state, saying that the school and road program go hand in hand, that the consolidated school is the hope of the rural sections and that good roads are necessary to good schools.

Governor Walker was introduced by Mrs. Ralph Northcutt, prominent citizen of Marietta, who in a ringing appeal voiced the needs of the state along educational lines, declaring that the state will not be regarded as progressive until a better school system is afforded the children of the state. She also declared for a paved highway system.

While here Governor Walker was entertained at luncheon by Lindley W. Camp and C. M. Head, members of the legislature from Cobb county. Among the others present were Judge and Mrs. Samuel H. Sibley, Mrs. Ralph Northcutt, Otis A. Brumby, Mayor E. R. Hunt and Colonel Fred Morris.

CITY PURCHASING BODY ABOLISHED

The purchasing committee of council Monday afternoon was abolished by a viva voce vote of council, when members acted favorably on a measure presented by the ordinance committee of council.

This decision followed attempts of Councilman Horace Russell and others to amend the law governing purchases so that a department head would be allowed to recommend to the purchasing committee the bid which he aproved and that three-fourths of the committee would have to vote against the recommendation in order to override it. This plan met defeat.

The ordinance abolishing the purchasing committee provides that department heads recommend bids to the purchasing agent and that he is to act on their suggestion.

The Atlanta Theater.

The very announcement of the coming of the famous Winter Garden revue, "Artists and Models," to the Atlanta theater next Monday for a week's engagement has caused a mild sensation. It is said that "Artists and Models" begins where all other revues leave off. As a spectacle it has never been surpassed, and it has more genuine features than any other revue ever presented. Its comedy is broad but not vulgar, as J. J. Shubert, under whose direction "Artist and Models" was produced, has very rigid views along these lines, and does not permit any of his companies to overstep the bounds, as they are organized to entertain and not offend. The big features of "Artists and Models" are the original 18 Gertrude Hoffman Girls, direct from the London Hippodrome and the Moulin Rouge, Paris, and the famous Winter Garden orchestra. Mail orders for seats may be sent in now. The box office sale starts Thursday.

The Metropolitan.

Adolph Verdi, sensational young Atlanta violinist and for sometime a valuable attache of the Metropolitan theater, is sharing honors this week with the masterful films, "Infatuation," starring Corine Griffiths and Percy Marmont, and Enrico Leide's big orchestra features.

Verdi is the stage attraction, and his cycle of wholesome, popular selections sent big audiences Monday almost into frenzies. And in "Infatuation" there is a thrill aad gasp to almost every foot of film—all the love tangles and wholesome entertainment one might wish for. Leide's orchestra has a special part, too, this week, and then News and Views have an unusually interesting offering of world events.

With Verdi in the stellar stage attraction role, augmented by the screen offering and other features, a great week is under way in local movie circles at the Metropolitan.

Rialto Theater

The contender for the championship of England is drugged on the eve of the battle. The favorite in the annual derby at Epsom Downs is waylaid on the way to the race. The hero is kidnaped to keep him from entering his horse. The beautiful dancer is murdered mysteriously in her apartment. These are some of the things that make you sit up in your chair and gasp for breath during the two hours it takes to unreel "Sporting Life," at the Rialto theater this week.

A skillful blending of melodrama, sophisticated comedy, spectacular scenes and unusual photographic effects has made "Sporting Life" one of the outstanding photoplays of the season. Of scarcely secondary attractiveness on the Rialto picture program is the showing of another episode of the now famous and very popular short films, "The Adventures of Mazie." Pathe News is shown.

West End Theater.

An involuntary chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" and "oohs" punctuated the West End theater atmosphere last night during the initial [illegible] "Wild Horse Mesa," Paramount's celluloid version of Zane Grey's [illegible] novel.

That this spontaneous tribute to the merits of the photoplay was well deserved, is attested to by the fact that all over the country, wherever this spectacular production has been shown, it has been hailed as a melodramatic thriller of the first water.

Zane Grey is without a peer when it comes to devising dynamic plots that vibrate with red-blooded action, unique thrills and appealing romance, and in "Wild Horse Mesa," he is at his supreme best. Tomorrow Patsy Ruth Miller in "Fools in the Dark."

O'Brien Boy Thin and Pale

In a Little Over Two Months Gained Eleven Pounds.

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's vile, horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien, of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Frank K. McCutchen, Prominent Attorney, Dies at Dalton Home

Dalton, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Frank K. McCutchen, 48, died at his home here last night after a brief illness. He was a member of one of the most prominent families of this section, being the son of Judge C. D. McCutchen, who presided over the Cherokee judicial circuit for many years. His mother was before her marriage Miss Frances Kelly.

Colonel McCutchen was a member of the Methodist church, the Masonic fraternity, the Junior Order United American Mechanics and other civic organizations of Dalton.

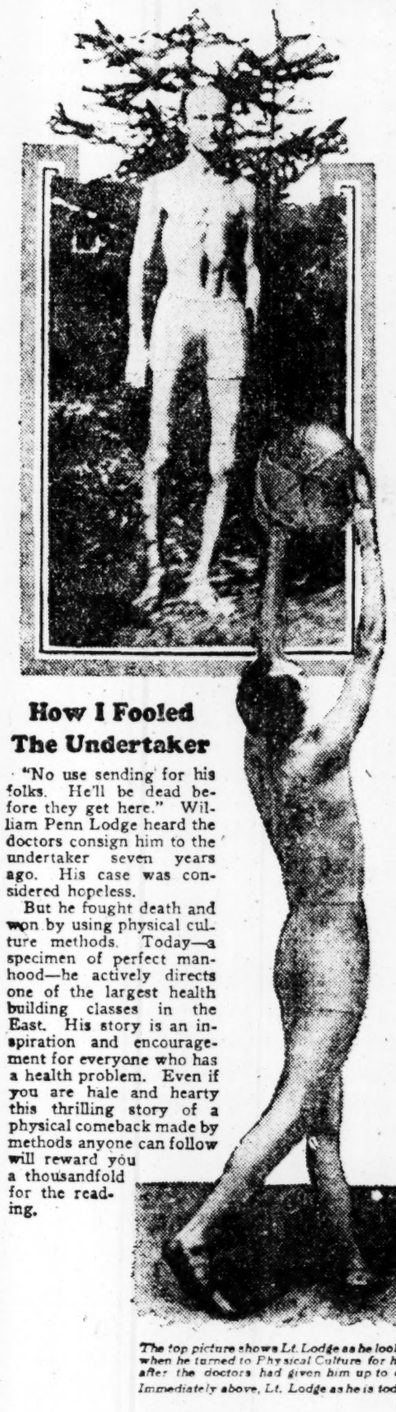
Decide Now When You will die!



The top picture shows Lt. Lodge as he looked when he turned to Physical Culture for help after the doctors had given him up to die. Immediately above, Lt. Lodge as he is today.

How I Fooled The Undertaker

"No use sending for his folks. He'll be dead before they get here." William Penn Lodge heard the doctors consign him to the undertaker seven years ago. His case was considered hopeless.

But he fought death and won by using physical culture methods. Today—a specimen of perfect manhood—he actively directs one of the largest health building classes in the East. His story is an inspiration and encouragement for everyone who has a health problem. Even if you are hale and hearty this thrilling story of a physical comeback made by methods anyone can follow will reward you a thousandfold for the reading.

If You're Fat Reduce or Die

If you are fat you must do one of two things—reduce or die. Hard words but true. Check up for yourself by counting all the fat men and women of your acquaintance who have reached the age of seventy, eighty or ninety years. The answer is zero or nearly so because each swathed in his shroud of fat passed on to the undertaker years and years before his time. Frederick M. Westcott saw the handwriting on the wall. He weighed 234 lbs. He had developed catarrh, rheumatism, short breath and a dislike for exertion. Then he got busy and reduced. Today he weighs 190 and is still reducing. The method he used is simple, sensible and effective. It worked for him. It will work for you. Read his story in his own words in Physical Culture for February.

Tell Me What To Eat

Each month Milo Hastings, great authority on foods, answers a number of important questions regarding cooking for health and health foods. This month he discusses drinking water with meals, mineral salts, steam pressure cookers, the effect of cooking on vitamines, which foods make red blood. Hundreds of thousands read Milo Hastings' articles every month for the practical, common sense knowledge they contain. Why not join them?

$5000 In Prizes For Your Health Building Stories

What was your fight? How did you win? Here's an opportunity to tell how you made your way to health by Physical Culture methods. How did Achievement, Success and Romance come to you with new health and vigor? Tell your story and win a prize. Read the full particulars in Physical Culture for February.

You are condemned to die. Death may not be staring you in the face, today, but your time is dated.

The condemned murderer has broken a man-made law. He has to pay a man-made penalty. Sometimes it is deserved, but man-made justice often miscarries. Innocent men are frequently punished.

But the laws of the Almighty make no mistake. The date that has been set for your death will ultimately appear. We are all condemned to die just as surely as the murderer in the death cell.

Usually our death is premature by many years. For when we break the laws of life, premature death is the penalty of our sins.

Each human unit is born with a certain amount of vitality. He is allotted a certain number of years of life. Like a marvelous piece of mechanism [an automobile for instance] he is capable of lasting a certain number of years.

A high powered automobile in the hands of a careful chauffeur will be useful many years longer than if it were cared for by one who is ignorant or neglectful.

This marvelous human machine of ours needs even greater care than an automobile. If you are a good human chauffeur; if you know how to feed the human fire box, the stomach; if you know how to keep the human carburetor, the lungs, in proper condition; in other words, if you have the information essential to maintain the human mechanism in perfect repair, and if you fulfil your duty in connection therewith conscientiously and carefully, you are fitted for long life. You can put off your death sentence until the last spark of life goes out.

When is your death sentence to be passed? Just how much life is there in your body? How much death are you harboring in the form of death cells that linger in your tissues and bring disease and death?

Become a regular reader of Physical Culture. Read the absorbing articles showing how others have solved the same health problems which confront you and your family; see how easily you may banish ills of long standing; see how easy it is for you to live out your allotted term.

The February issue of this great health magazine gives an absorbingly interesting account of the Hundred Year Club of Newark, N. J. whose 125 members have set a century as the minimum span of life. The youngest member, a daughter of one of the older members is seventy. Many are in the nineties. It looks as though most of them will reach the hundred mark.

These men and women follow the principles laid down in Physical Culture Magazine. You can do the same and by so doing set back the date of YOUR death many, many years.

How Fasting Made Me Young Again

A moderate fast will make the tissues of a man or woman of forty comparable to those of a boy in his teens. For years Bernarr Macfadden has been pounding this truth home in the face of violent opposition. But now the tide has turned. The medical profession has supplied laboratory proof of the Macfadden teaching. Read the results of the three year investigation of the fast by Chicago University. You can ill afford to miss this information which means so much to every man and woman who values health.

How I Raised 15 Children In A New York Apartment

A family of fifteen normal, healthy children born and raised in a New York apartment! Impossible? Not at all say Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bolster. They have done it despite every supposed handicap of apartment life. What is more remarkable, only one of the fifteen has ever been ill and that but for a few days' time. Their family is another proof that it is not city living conditions which are to blame for the pitiful smallness of modern families. Whether you have a family yet or not you will be equally interested in the story of this remarkable household and how they have avoided even the petty sicknesses supposed to go hand-in-hand with childhood.

Don't Miss The February Issue with its powerful editorials, health and beauty exercises, food articles, health articles, weight control, personal health problems, thrilling fiction, throbbing with life, superb rotogravure section showing physically perfect men and women and beautifully developed babies all glorifying a healthy mind in a heathy body.

The brief paragraphs above can ony suggest to you the wealth of information in this issue of the great health magazine. Every page teems with health, strength and beauty building suggestions. Get your copy today at the nearest newsstand or use the coupon.

J. O. U. A. M. CIRCUS DRAWS BIG CROWD

Hundreds of Atlantans Monday thronged the city auditorium for the opening of the J. O. U. A. M. benefit circus, here for a week's engagement.

Beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and lasting until 11 o'clock at night daring feats of horsemanship were offered by riders whose acts have featured Ringling Brothers, Sparks and Sells-Floto circuses.

All the thrills of the big tent circuses have been combined in the auditorium show with acrobats exhibiting their skill, clowns with their mirth-provoking stunts, trained animals and other features.

The performances are being sponsored by the J. O. U. A. M. for the benefit of the Junior Order hospital. Proceeds are to be applied to the hospital fund.

T. Y. SMITH SLATED TO SUCCEED KITTLES ON RESERVE BOARD

A successor to the late Peter Kittles on the federal reserve board for the sixth federal reserve district will be chosen at a meeting of the board to be held March 9. Mr. Kittles represented what is known as "Class A, Group 3," banks, or the smaller banking institutions, on the board. This classification includes all banks with capital and resources less than $100,000.

T. Y. Smith, one of the best-known bankers in Georgia, probably will be chosen to succeed Mr. Kittles, it is understood. Mr. Smith is president of the Bartow bank, at Bartow, Jefferson county, and a prominent farmer, merchant and sawmill man of that section.

Mr. Smith is an ex-president of the Country Bankers' Association of Georgia, and is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the smaller banks in this part of the country. He is also a member of the Georgia Bankers' association, and served one term as representative from his county in the Georgia legislature.

Buick Motor Co. To Help in Tire Reduction Cost

The Buick Motor company has joined the national campaign to reduce the cost of tires to all automobile owners. One way in which the company will aid will be in the reduction of tire wear. Motorists will be asked to observe four simple rules.

These rules are: Maintain proper pressure of air in every tire; repair tires promptly when injured or worn; turn corners gently, avoiding scraping or burning tires; apply brakes gently and do not slide tires in coming to a stop. By using these methods, it is believed that the life of the average automobile tire will be greatly increased which in turn will aid in keeping the prices of crude rubber at lowest levels.

At present rubber production is controlled in the British East Indies under the Stevenson plan in 1922. This area produces 70 per cent of the world's rubber and the United States now consumes about 70 per cent of the world's supply. Prices of rubber, which were declared "fair" under the Stevenson plan, are from 30 to 36 cents a pound. Present prices average $1.10 a pound.

BLACKHAND LETTER STIRS GREENSBORO

Greensboro, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Quite a flurry of excitement was caused here today when Griffith Williams, prohibition enforcement officer for Greene county, displayed two sticks of dynamite and a note which he said were found on the front porch of his home late Sunday night.

The note was a warning for him to be careful in his sleuthing against moonshiners or he would be "blown up."

Judge J. B. Park tonight said that the matter would be brought to the attention Tuesday of the Greene county grand jury, in session here, and authorship of the blackhand letter will be sought.

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way. That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

Ruby Ray, the woman who furnished police with information which led to the arrest of Theo R. Berry and Mell M. Gore, convicted of murder in connection with the slaying of William H. Cheek, Peachtree road grocer, was removed to Fulton tower from police headquarters Monday.

Following this announcement Solicitor General John A. Boykin stated that he would ask the Fulton grand jury at its session Friday to investigate her case and probably would ask the return of an indictment charging accessory before and after the fact of murder.

Accessory before the fact carries with it the same punishment as the principal in a murder case, while accessory after the fact constitutes a misdemeaner.

Race Segregation Ordinance Passed For Barber Shops

After June 1 it will be unlawful for any negro barber to serve a white patron or for a white barber to wait on a negro under terms of an ordinance placed on second reading and final passage by city council Monday afternoon. The vote was 21 to 10.

The measure came to council with the approval of the sanitary committee which was in session last week. It also was presented to the ordinance committee but failed to gain approval there.

Councilman Horace Russell of the ninth ward and Councilman A. J. Orme of the eighth ward opposed the bill. They urged that the measure be sent to a committee. Councilman C. G. Allen, a member of the sanitary committee who introduced the paper, insisted on an immediate vote and the measure was passed.

HEARING ON SLOT MACHINE PETITION SCHEDULED TODAY

Hearing on a petition filed recently in Fulton superior court by the Atlanta Mint Vending company, asking a restraining order preventing Chief E. L. Jett or members of the Atlanta police department from making cases against operators of nickel-in-slot machines, is scheduled for today before Judge W. D. Ellis.

Nine Atlanta storekeepers and alleged managers of the mint vending company, indicted on two counts in connection with the operation of machines, will go on trial before Judge John D. Humphries.

The defendants on the calendar for today are: J. B. Ashcraft, Robert Massow, R. A. Cates, H. Myers, Max Adams, Ben Goldberg, R. Warncke, R. B. Croppet, Jack Cropper, Jack B. Shearer and William B. Shearer.

Ben Goldberg was tried and convicted Thursday before Judge Humphries, the court deferring sentence until the other cases are completed.

When the restraining petition was filed Judge George L. Bell granted a temporary restraining order against Chief Jett and members of his department. However, the injunction was not directed against county officers who have continued to make cases wherever the machines were located.

In connection with the slot machine war Solicitor John A. Boykin announced Monday that approximately 50 additional bills had been drawn by attaches in his office and would probably be presented to the Fulton county grand jury at its session Friday.

The session of the body was scheduled for today but due to the illness of several members of the solicitor's staff, the meeting has been postponed until Friday.

Approximately 400 true bills have already been returned by the body.

BYRD INAUGURATED AS 48TH GOVERNOR OF "OLD DOMINION"

Richmond, Va., February 1.—(AP)—The youngest chief executive Virginia has had since colonial days—Harry Flood Byrd, of Winchester, 38-year-old orchardist and publicist, became the forty-eighth governor of the Old Dominion with his induction into office here today at 12:25 o'clock.

Four minutes later, the successor to E. Lee Trinkle started his inaugural address, in which he pledged himself to work for a "greater and more efficient Virginia." The keynote of his address was economy in the government of Virginia, and his first official act on assuming the office was the issuance of a proclamation placing the employees of the state government upon an eight-hour working day basis, effective March 1. Heads of state departments were asked to notify him as soon as possible the number of employees that could be cut off as a result of the longer working hours.

OFFICER, WOMAN MURDER VICTIMS NEAR DETROIT

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Detroit, Mich., February 1.—Police found the bullet-riddled body of Jay Daubenspeck, 30, a lieutenant of private detectives, in a field near the city limits here, and searching farther came upon the slain body of a 20-year-old girl.

The girl may be Helma Malak, address unknown, according to a man who informed police by telephone that the Malak girl disappeared at 11 p. m. Saturday.

Cruising in a scout car with a patrolman, Sergeant John Bishop saw Daubenspeck's automobile standing in a field just off a cinder road. Investigating, he discovered a bullet hole through the windshield and a woman's handkerchief on the ground. The trail led to a spot a block from the automobile where Daubenspeck's body lay.

He had been shot eight times.

Later members of the homicide squad found the girl's body in a ditch 300 feet from the car. She had been wounded four times, twice in the back. The other two bullets had been fired into her breast at such close range that there were powder marks on her clothing.

It is said that Pounders and his wife had been separated two months.

After the shooting, Pounders fled in an attempt to evade capture, but he was apprehended several hours later by officers from Franklin county who placed him in jail to await a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder.

That Ritzy Feeling

A Message to the Million and More BUICK owners

TODAY, every automobile owner in America faces the possibility of a substantial increase in the cost of tires, both for replacement and as original equipment on new cars.

Crude rubber has advanced in price approximately 150% during the past twelve months.

In a letter from the Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, to Senator Arthur Capper, written late in December, the reason for this condition is described as follows:

"The control of rubber production in the British East Indies was organized under the Stevenson Plan in 1922. That area produces about 70% of the world's rubber, and we consume about 70% of the world's rubber. At the time the plan was put into effect by Colonial legislation the claim was made that its purpose was to assure a fair price to the growers. The Growers Committee stated that such a fair price would be from fifteen to eighteen pence (30 to 36¢) per pound. Exhaustive investigations of the Department of Commerce showed that at that price the capital invested in the industry would earn an annual average profit of from 15 to 25 per cent.

"At the price declared by the price-fixing body as 'fair' to them, our next year's supply would cost us about $324,000,000, but at the present price of $1.10 per pound, it will cost us $990,000,000 or $666,000,000 in excess of the 'fair' price.

"These increased prices of rubber are a very real thing to every family in the United States. The price over and above the so-called 'fair' price means an increased charge of probably $20 or $30 for each set of tires on a light automobile, and $50 to $70 for each set on a heavy car."

Save Tire Wear

These simple rules, observed by every motorist will help:

1. Maintain the proper pressure of air in every tire.
2. Repair tires promptly when they are injured or worn.
3. Turn corners gently, avoiding scraping or burning tires.
4. ✳ Apply brakes gently and do not slide tires in coming to a stop.

Buick Owners Use 5,000,000 Tires

Buick considers it a plain duty to the million and more Buick owners now using 5,000,000 and more tires, to discuss this situation, and to call attention to certain suggestions which Secretary Hoover has advanced to protect car owners against the threatened increase in the cost of motor car operation.

Secretary Hoover Urges You To Save Rubber

Foreseeing the hardship that an additional tire cost would work on the American public, Secretary Hoover, aided by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, has undertaken to reduce the normal demand for crude rubber 25% during 1926. He feels certain this can be done by placing the facts squarely before you, and by asking you to observe a few fundamental tire saving rules, that most people neglect.

With this aid from a nation of motorists, Mr. Hoover hopes to reduce considerably the consumption of new rubber, and perhaps bring rubber prices to a lower level.

Buick Urges Your Aid

Buick lends its unqualified support to the Hoover program and urges every Buick owner to add his cooperation. You are not asked to drive less—only to drive with more consideration for your tires. In this way, the tire economy which Buick has designed into Buick motor cars may be realized to its fullest extent.

On this page you will find the driving suggestions offered by Secretary Hoover. Observance of these rules will make us a nation of more thrifty tire users. And save our money, not only now, but for years to come.

BRING IT TO A VOTE!

It now appears that a final vote on the tax bill in the senate may be further delayed. Let us hope for as early a vote as is possible.

It is of urgent importance to the treasury and the taxpayers to have the 1926 taxation rates fixed in time to issue return blanks early in March. The pending bill has to pass the senate, go through conference, be repassed by both houses and be signed by the president before these blanks can be printed. An inflow of revenue on March 15 is needed to take care of the treasury's usual quarterly short-term note financing.

The house acted wisely and in a most commendable non-partisan spirit in handling this measure. The obstructive tactics in the senate have been largely political, personal—and insurgent.

The democrats have made some wise recommendations. Amendments can and should be made, but the whole matter should be handled from an economic and not a political viewpoint. And obstructionists should not be permitted to defer or block its passage in time for the benefits to accrue, without embarrassments, with the early-approaching returns.

The whole nation applauded the application of cloture to obtain a vote on the world court protocol. It would equally applaud the use of cloture, if necessary, to put the tax bill through the senate and insure both tax relief to the country and tax returns to the treasury on March 15 next.

According to Monday's dispatches the final vote may be secured in time without cloture. If so, so much the better. But the precedent has been established, and from this time forward the senate obstructionists, insurgents, radicals, et al, may take notice.

THE CREDIT CROOK.

A credit protection campaign has been launched by the Atlanta Association of Credit Men.

The purpose is to help raise a fund in this country of nearly $2,000,000 for use in the suppression of credit crime.

A million and a half of this is already in hand and at work, with gratifying results, it is said.

The campaign for the first million dollars was more than successful. IT WAS OVERSUBSCRIBED, it is said, to the extent of $62,000. This first part of the fund was raised entirely in the northeast section of the United States. The remainder of the fund will be raised in the rest of the country.

All classes of business and banking realize the danger that besets commerce from the credit crook, and every thinking business man has readily conceded that the suppression of credit fraud is of vital importance to the whole business world.

The fund itself will be used. The interest is not a sufficiently large amount to do the required work properly. This fund is expected to be sufficient for four years. The first two years $500,000 will be spent annually. At the end of that time it is expected that credit crime will have so decreased that $400,000 will be sufficient for the third year and $350,000 for the fourth year.

It is announced that the national association plans to put on a campaign for a fund of at least $5,000,000 after the business men of the country have been convinced that it is necessary to keep a permanent force ready to combat credit frauds. When this $5,000,000 is raised it will be invested and only the interest on it used for credit protection.

It is a movement for the protection of business and the teaching of proper business morality, and the Constitution feels that progressive business concerns will support it as they support other movements that are for the improvement of business.

FARM FORCES GATHER.

Atlanta extends a cordial welcome to the southern extension workers who are in conference here this week. They include directors, state agents, state home demonstration agents, boys and girls' club agents, and corelated representatives. Very naturally, and quite happily, Dr. J. Phil Campbell, the able and popular director of the Georgia extension service, is to a substantial degree a host at the present conference, and it was through his influence that the meeting was brought to Atlanta. It is the first time the southern extension workers have met in Georgia, although for perhaps twenty times such conferences have been held. We are confident the results of the meeting will be gratifying and that these potential factors in the material wealth and progress of the south may find Atlanta just as entertaining in their leisure hours as the proverbial hospitality of her people is unmistakable at all times.

There is no group of men and women doing more for their states and sections—and country—than these directors and agents of the extension service. Agriculture has been placed upon a business basis, crops have been balanced, markets stimulated and secured, soil made to respond to correct treatment and utilization, home-life made happier, rural spirit made inspiring, community life made inviting—all of this and infinitely more have resulted from the coordinated influences of the extension service.

There will be gathered in Atlanta, at the Biltmore hotel, on February 3-5, the "southern agricultural workers." This organization is composed of representatives of all the agricultural colleges, experiment stations and commercial agriculturists. To the members of this organization Atlanta also extends a hearty welcome.

HARRIS' GOOD WORK.

To Senator Harris, of Georgia, is due to a large extent the credit for the early vote on the world court in the face of the vigorous opposition, and the determination of the irreconcilables to defeat it by deferring action—the deferring of action to be by process of filibuster.

This is made very plain by the speech of Senator Robinson, democratic leader, with reference to Senator Harris' motion at the special session of congress designed to bring the world court to a vote. This motion undoubtedly brought about a vote several months earlier than would otherwise have been the case. And it is not unlikely that the delay which would have been occasioned would have defeated the court resolution.

It will be interesting to Georgians to read what Senator Robinson said, in specific reference to the Harris motion which placed the obligation—one of honor—squarely up to the senate. It follows:

"Mr. President, I desire to make plain my personal views respecting the fair and proper course to be pursued by the senate in connection with both the pending resolution relating to the world court and the revenue bill.

"The opponents of the world court during the last few days have adopted a policy which, in my opinion, is fairly subject to criticism.

"It will be recalled that when the president convened the senate in extraordinary session following the last regular session there was pending before this body a resolution by the senator from Georgia (Mr. Harris) which contemplated that the senate should then proceed during the special session to the final disposition of the question as to whether the United States should become an adherent to the statute of the world court. Every senator knew then, as he knows now, that unlimited time would have been afforded for the consideration of the resolution of the senator from Georgia if an arrangement had not been entered into for the consideration of the subject during the present session. Senators who are infatuated with the music of their own voices would have been given the opportunity then to hear themselves sing without limit. There was practically no other business before the senate of the United States when the special session adjourned; and if we had not entered into the arrangement that was made, if we had not voted the special order that was fixed, we would have proceeded then to dispose of the subject, and there would have been no way in which those who are afraid to meet the issue could have avoided, during the special session, a vote on the resolution."

Now that the world court resolution has been constitutionally passed, though cloture had to be finally invoked, the part played by Georgia's senior senator in getting an early vote is worthy of commendation and worthy of a page in history.

Roosevelt works for harmony, says a headline. Which sounds strange, in view of the memories of the turbulent T. R.

The two boys who "borrowed" a taxi at the point of a pistol to go to Florida, will no doubt be more familiar with the gentle art of walking by the time their five-year sentences are up.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Ambition.

"Greece must become the strongest naval power in the Mediterranean and she must have the strongest army in the Balkan peninsula." So speaks General Pangalos, the new dictator of Hellas, on the occasion of a festive banquet of the officers of the guard regiments at Athens. The general, we read, was accorded an ovation. And nothing seems more natural. "Salonica must become the strongest fortress in the world, the acropolis of Hellenism. We will expend a million drachmas for that purpose. We will not tolerate any more injustices (address Mussolini in the matter of Corfu), and we will revenge the insults and blows of the past decade (address Kemal Pasha in the matter of the Greek debacle at Smyrna). Greece will rise anew. It will astonish the world. Constantinople still beckons." So speaks General Pangalos, dictator of a country that is as poor as Job. It was Bismarck who called the Balkans Europe's "children's room."

When Giants Joke.

When the late Eugen Sandow lifted his car single-handed from a ditch, he used his mighty strength to some purpose. But, like other strong men, he was justly proud of his power, and frequently exercised it for its own sake. The story is now told that he first gained prominence in France when, as a young man, he broke all the grip-testing machines in a certain town. The companies controlling the machines sued him, and from the publicity that followed his prowess was established. In the same way Tom Topham, who kept the Red Lion on a corner of City Road, London, in the reign of George II, first gained fame by holding back a tugging horse. This playful giant never opened toll gates. He always lifted his horse over them. Over a century ago another superman named Williams deserted from the British army and settled in the Isle Jourdain, where he soon became a pest to the villagers. One of his tricks was to run 50 yards with a full-grown man and toss him over a 20-foot wall. The entire French army was eventually arrayed against him. He was finally imprisoned at Toulon. Dan Cuerton earned the nickname of "The Tailors' Terror." Besides being immensely strong, he was so elastic that he could inflate himself to an extent that rendered the tailor's measure useless, or he could contract his girth until a boy's suit would fit him.

Gay Stamboul.

One of the gayest and most colorful spots of Constantinople is the cemetery. Not only is it a garden where shady cypress trees form an ideal cool retreat for hot summer days, but it is filled with flower beds, little pagodas, winding paths, green lawns and refreshment peddlers. It is a sort of social center. Maids take their charges there for an afternoon's outing. It is a rendezvous for the officers of the garrison with the little cocottes from the city. A Moslem religious teacher will often come here with his whole class to continue his instructions in the Koran. And toward twilight, with the crescent moon throwing a silvery sheen over the tree branches, it becomes a garden of Aphrodite for a thousand lovers.

The Dragon Stirs.

Sven Hedin, the famous Swedish explorer, who was the first white man to penetrate into Tibet, sounds a warning in the Berliner Tageblatt to all Europe, to reconsider its attitude toward the races of Asia and Africa. "Since the war," he writes, "there has been an awakening of racial consciousness and an urge for freedom that must be met in a totally different spirit than that which has characterized the treatment of Asiatic races hitherto by the chancelleries of Europe. He points out that in the area from China to Morocco there lives more than half the world's population. When Europe was strong this population could be kept in check. But now that Europe is exhausted and poor, Asiatics have lost all respect and fear for Europeans." He counsels moderation and humane treatment, else the next quarter century will produce a catastrophe. It will be recalled that the kaiser sounded a similar warning on different occasions. And as Sven Hedin and Wilhelm are close friends, it looks as if we have learned in this way some of the conversation that took place between the two at Doorn recently. P. V. P.

Just in Passing

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

It has not been definitely sprung as yet, but the smouldering embers are about to break into a flame—

Some of the proponents of the present highway "system" in Georgia, who are protesting any change in the present plan of operation, and who "refuse to be convinced against their wills," are planning to spring a five-cent gas tax. That is to say, they are planning to "provide" a state road fund with an additional one-cent tax on gasoline, and by withdrawing the present allocation of one cent a gallon to counties, which is distributed according to the respective road mileages in the various counties.

Neither proposition will work.

And to say that this state should add another one cent a gallon gasoline tax is unthinkable, and the more so in view of the disconnected, disjointed and inexcusably over-expensive "system" in vogue in Georgia at this time. We need more economy and not more taxes.

* * * *

Besides, who pays the road building bill in America today? Let's look at the facts—

Motor vehicle taxes in 1924 were equal to 92 per cent of the expenditures for the state and federal road systems, the highways which carry 80 per cent of the traffic. State and federal expenditures for roads were $600,500,000, while motor vehicle taxes, as noted above, were $551,000,000.

The state license fees alone were more than twice the amount required for upkeep of the state roads.

The motorist is the largest single taxpayer toward highway purposes, all his taxes in this direction being in addition to the taxes he pays as a citizen.

The remainder of the highway bill is paid only partially by public taxation, as much of it is provided by bond issues which are often retired wholly or in part by special motor vehicle taxes.

There has frequently been comment that railroads are forced to pay taxes to build highways for their competitors. This is partially true in the sense that a proportion of all general taxes goes to highway building and accordingly some share of the general taxes paid by the railroads eventually is devoted to highway construction.

Railroad taxes going ultimately to highway purposes amounted to $34,000,000 in 1923 (latest year in which comparable figures are available). This amounted to 3.6 per cent of the total highway bill. The freight revenues of the railroads from motor products in that year totaled $400,000,000. Whether or not the motor vehicle is being sufficiently taxed, or overtaxed, in specific states is a matter for local consideration, taking into account the existing highway projects and development.

In general throughout the nation, however, it is clear that the motor vehicle is paying the largest part of the highway bill.

* * * *

In Wednesday's Constitution I shall present a rather startling array—and I believe a most interesting compilation—on "state highway facts and financing." It may be worth while—I hope so, in the interest of a good cause in which we are all deeply concerned—to look up these facts, and digest them. Again I shall ask to be carefully checked against, for assuredly it is not my purpose to mislead by a single statement.

And by the way—

Good for Pickens! That fine old north Georgia county came across nobly Saturday with a permanent paving highway spirit almost 100 per cent strong.

It shows the drift. I insist again that the obligation to build a state system should devolve solely upon the state, and that there should be no "system" tolerated that fastens a triple-burden of taxation upon people.

But the highway spirit is in the air. It is invincible.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

New York, February 1.—The mailman in greater New York has his task considerably lightened by the small army of writers who employ the medium of the subway pillars. In the larger underground stations the pillars are often used by ladies and gents with a mission in life. Last week I saw a seedy-looking individual copy a well-known Bible text on a pillar with indelible pencil. Though he glanced for guidance at the book from time to time, he had made three mistakes in spelling when he got through.

* * * *

Out at the Utica avenue station there is a whole religious debate inscribed on the pillars. The original writer made a rather positive statement about a certain denomination being the only sect with a guarantee of salvation. Twenty-four hours later when I embarked again for my daily journey, I discovered that three scribblers had taken issue with him and had told the world why.

* * * *

But the following morning a tall fellow with dark moustache and derby hat, who went from pillar to pillar scanning the messages, angrily pulled out his pencil when he saw the extent of the debate. He began scratching it all out and covering it with a big black blur. Above this scratchy blotch he wrote in a big scrawling hand: "There is no God."

* * * *

Because their controversy had been inundated by an indelible pencil deluge the debaters did not give up. I noticed they have moved to the next pillar.

* * * *

At the Columbia university subway station I spotted one notice that struck me as extraordinary. It said: "To the Unknown Girl. I love you." No signature. I can't think of anything more unknown or more futile.

* * * *

Racial hatred, dire warnings about massacres, even sometimes find their way to the pillars. There is one inscription at the 125th street station, right in the heart of Harlem, the black belt, which says: "The day will come when all negroes will be slaughtered. K. K. K."

* * * *

A similar message for the Jews adorns the station at Brooklyn bridge. There must be some imbeciles or morons walking around with nothing else to do.

* * * *

The Caesars erected their triumphal arches and Napoleon his columns and covered them with boastful inscriptions, the same urge of telling the world about achievements wrought often slumbers in the modern breast. At Times Square I deciphered this inscription: "Caleb Halton, Deacon's Corners, Ill. I spent two weeks in New York."

* * * *

On the elevated at Park Row station, on the spotless apron of a well-known little woman who adorns a cleansing ad, one can find the following interesting romantic development. It is quite fresh and there are daily additions:

"What did your father say last night?"

"He ain't speaking to me."

"Usual time tonight?"

"No, he's watching."

For five days the epic remained unchanged. Then suddenly one morning as I alighted and gave a hasty glance, there was a bold, determined sentence: "Either you come tonight or I quit." The thought disturbed me all day. In the evening I hastened to the pilar and I heaved a sight of relief. "I'll be there," it said.

GEORGIA Day by Day

—BY—
RALPH T. JONES

Atlanta, of course, is not the only Georgia city which is spending money in advertising in the national magazines this year.

* * * *

A dozen or more Georgia cities have raised advertising funds, and the good work they are doing is already beginning to appear in the various publications selected as the best mediums to tell the story of Georgia to the country at large.

* * * *

However, there can be no objection to an Atlanta man, writing for an Atlanta newspaper, expressing his conviction that never has there been better advertising copy for a city or community than that which has been prepared for Atlanta and which will begin publication in the February 20th issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

* * * *

The double-page spread for that issue is a wonderful presentation of the advantages of Atlanta as an industrial city. It tells, in forceful picture and story, the reasons why 560 great national manufacturing and merchandising organizations have established headquarters here.

* * * *

It drives home the lesson it would teach. It does not, of course, cover all the advantages of the city. That would be impossible in any two-page advertisement. But it whets the appetite of the prospect, and it makes him hunger to learn more about this delightful community, the capital of a delightful state.

* * * *

In addition to 25 trade journals the Atlanta advertising is to appear on regular schedule throughout the year in The Saturday Evening Post, the Review of Reviews, the World's Work, System, and The New York Times.

* * * *

If the investment don't pay tremendous dividends, there is something wrong with the intelligence of the industrial world.

My Story of Atlanta

—BY—
SAM W. SMALL

CHAPTER LVI.
First Masonic Lodge.

The promotion of fraternal orders has been a conspicuous trait of American character ever since the common interests of the pre-revoulution patriots drew them together into secret associations. That trait in the last century became a dominant one among our free and interacting people. Atlanta very naturally was not exempt from this disposition toward mutual association and altruistic activities.

Since the population was large enough to warrant the undertaking, the Free Masons who were gathered here as prominent residents instituted Lodge No. 59 on October 26, 1847. It was not only chartered by the grand lodge at that time, but was incorporated in 1852 as a body politic incorporate. The lodge grew rapidly and Mt. Zion Royal Arch chapter No. 16 was chartered shortly thereafter. And both have continued their activities and benevolence to the present day. Other lodges, councils and commanderies have been instituted in the city, coordinately with the growth of the city, and have contained in their membership practically all of the responsible citizens who have lived in Atlanta. When the city was destroyed by the federal army, members of the craft in that army saw to it that the Masonic hall was exempted from the conflagration, but it fell a victim to accidental flames a a year later. Then the Masonic bodies met in the upper floors of the Grant building at the corner of Marietta and Broad streets, until the present Masonic temple was built in its present location at the corner of Peachtree and Cain streets.

The Masons of Atlanta have always been among the foremost of its promoters, and today constitute the strongest fraternal contingent to our population. There are now in and adjacent to the city 62 lodges, chapters, councils, commanderies and shrines of the Masonic population, and the visitor from any part of the nation who is entitled to affiliation or visitation, will find his opportunities for either both cordial and plentiful. The most famous of the Masonic associations in Atlanta is Yaarab temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mysttic Shrine. The membership runs into the thousands, and the tame of Yaarab hase been carried all over the continent by the splendid appearances that its nobles, patrols and drum corps have made in the national meetings of the order for many years past. The members of the temple, that characterize enterprise and liberality, are now moving to erect a $1,000,000 mosque in the city, and will undoubtedly carry the big enterprise to consummation.

The first lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Central lodge No. 28, was established in 1848, and is still the active leader of the fraternity in the city. There are nine lodges; five encampments and five lodges of the Daughters of Rebekah in the city. There Odd Fellows and "Odd Women," so to speak, have always been conspicuous in the fraternal and benevolent work done in the community. Out of the ranks of Atlanta's Odd Fellows two grand sires of the whole order have been chosen; they being Colonel Luther J. Glenn and Colonel John B. Goodwyn. The latter was afterwards made grand scribe of the national order, and died in office several years ago in Baltimore.

The Knights of Pythias is strongly represented in Atlanta. There are seven lodges in active operation, a temple of the Knights of Khorassan, and a section of the Endowment rank. This order was founded by Julius Rathbone in Washington City in 1864, and with the motive to draw together at the end of the conflict the men of the north and the south who were then embattled. Rathbone believed that the cause of the Union would be successful, and that the men of the south would then need the fraternal sympathy and aid of moral and benevolent men in the north. He founded the order, therefore, upon principles of generous fraternity and pure patriotism. The growth of the order in the south, however, was slow until in the seventies. As nearly as the record shows the first lodge in this city, Atlanta lodge No. 20, was instituted in 1879, and has since continued to be the mother lodge of the Pythians of Atlanta. Upon its roster appear the names of hundreds of the best citizens of the last 50 years. The Knights of Pythias constitute the third most numerous fraternal order in the world.

At the present time every popular fraternal order in America has more or less representation in the city, including the Improved Order of Red Men, Woodmen of the World, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Knights of Maccadees, the Independent Order of B'nai Brith, the Free Sons of Israel, the Knights of Columbus, the Grand Lodge of the National Order of Pipe Smokers, and a lodge of Chinese Free Masons. These are all active agencies in promoting the social, protective and beneficial objects of their institutions.

Along patriotic lines we have the Daughters of the American Revolution, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, six camps of the United Confederate Veterans, a chapter of the disabled American veterans of the world war, a post of the veterans of foreign wars, two camps of the United Spanish War Veterans and the O. M. Mitchell post of the Grand Army of the Republic. The latter was organized in 1870 and embodies surviving veterans of the Union army of 1861-65, and has for its special function the annual decoration of the graves of the federal dead in the national cemetery at Marietta.

The above enumeration is necessarily only partial, and is but a modicum list of the hundreds of religious relief, humane and benevolent clubs and societies that have their domiciles and fields of operation in the city. Indeed, it is trite to say that no city in America is better supplied with such agencies of good citizenship and progressive spirit as is our own.

Outstanding among these mutual organizations are those springing out of the fields of skilled labor. The first of these tbe organized in the embryo city was the Typographical union, made up of journeyman printers, and the Atlanta Typographical union of today is the oldest labor organization in the city. Every branch of skilled labor is now represented in the Atlanta Federation of Trades, or other distinctive brotherhoods, and what may be properly called the "Grand Army of Union Labor" in Atlanta is one of the most potential elements in our citizenship.

It is a part of the national fame of Atlanta that throughout her history she has suffered less from acute labor troubles arising out of the strikes or boycotts than any other city of equal standing in the nation, and this fame is wholly due to the common sense and local patriotism of the men who have always led the labor hosts of the city. They have taken a pardonable pride in the spirit of cooperation that has existed here between employers and workers, and there has grown up among the people of Atlanta a psychology antagonistic to strikes and lockouts. These facts have become known all over the land and been strong attractions bringing both industries and skilled labor to the city. One of the best advertisements that the industrial conditions here has had, or can have, is that so many of the workers in the city are home owners, and, therefore, peculiarly interested in the peace, good order and public spirit of the whole citizenship.

It must not be omitted that the mass of our colored workers, who constitute two-fifths of the unskilled and domestic labor of the city, have been imbued with these same principles of action, and can be relied upon to always respond to reason and right judgment regarding their relations with their employers.

Col. Massengale Writes Of the Pension Status

Editor Constitution: Confucius, the emperor and great law-giver of China, on the death of a great man in the realm, was asked by another great man this question: "Confucius, tell me what is death," to which he quickly replied, "If you will tell me what is life, with all its mysteries, I'll tell you what is death, with all its mysteries."

An old soldier wrote me a few days ago to write him about the mystery of the pension law that was passed in 1920 by the legislature to give the old soldiers a pension and if not paid in full to bear an increase. I wrote him it was a mystery, why we had not got it. As great as the mystery propounded to Confucius. Five legislatures since then have met, yet no solution of this grave problem. But I think now the governor's call for an extra session will solve this great Chinese puzzle, or mystery. Mr. Boswell comes out in a long letter stating that he fought the scrip bill, because he thought it unconstitutional as it originated in the senate. I was one of the committee that gave this bill to the senate and the house. Ex-Governor Harris, Dr. C. L. Moore, and General Carson were also on the committee, and the ablest lawyers in Georgia said it was constitutional, because it created no new debt and only asked for the payment of an old obligation. Now, Mr. Editor, I think the last senate of Georgia was composed of some able lawyers, and not a dissenting vote was cast against the bill. Now, how does Mr. Boswell propose to pay this debt, as he now intimates he is for it?

He wants to introduce a constitutional amendment to raise the borrowing power of the governor from five hundred thousand to three and one-half millions.

"If it should pass the general assembly and the people should vote for it favorably next fall, the governor could proceed at once to borrow the money and pay them. The next regular general assembly could get busy and pay the notes in two or three years. Then the W. & A. railroad rentals would not be disturbed, and we would save the discount."

I have used Boswell's language in the above quotations.

Does not this distinguished gentleman know that during this delay of a year or more a thousand Confederate soldiers will die, as in the past four years—the pension commissioner will tell him—3,616 have passed over the river.

What we want is some way to pay these old soldiers now—and the way to pay them is to discount half the rentals of the W. & A. railroad or add 1 cent a gallon to the gasoline tax. I am for good roads, but the roads were here and will be here when the last old Confed travels the road to eternity.

I am glad that Bill Jones, Fermer Barrett and Culpepper, who were against us, but are now for us, will be in the next legislature.

I intend to fight for other old Confeds until I die. Look at my record when in the senate of Georgia in 1888-9, and then in the house in 1911-12.

Now I want to thank The Constitution in behalf of every dead and living Confederate soldier and their widows.

RELIEF IS SOUGHT BY MELON SHIPPERS

Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, declared Monday he had not yet received any communication from Florida authorities regarding modification of the Georgia restrictions on watermelons shipped through this state from Florida.

News dispatches from Tallahassee had reported that Nathan Mayo, Florida commissioner of agriculture, and officials of the Florida Watermelon Growers' association were endeavoring to arrange a meeting with Dr. Bahnsen in Atlanta.

Georgia has placed a quarantine against melon shipments through the state, if the melons are packed in pine straw. This material, Dr. Bahnsen declares, frequently carries cattle ticks, and, falling from the cars along the railroad right of way, they have caused reinfestation of tick-free areas in this state.

Dr. Bahnsen states that his quarantine order applies only to pine straw and there is no objection to the shipment of the melons provided they are packed in material which is not liable to carry the cattle ticks into this state.

FLYING SQUADRON TO GIVE CHILDREN NEWS OF CONCERT

A flying squadron of 100 women was being organized Monday from the ranks of the Atlanta Music club and the Atlanta Parent-Teacher associations to lay siege to each of Atlanta's 50 schools Thursday and Friday so that the pupils may know that a children's matinee concert is to be given especially for them at the city auditorium next Monday afternoon by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

After contracting to bring the big symphony here at a cost of $2,500 for the purpose of enabling school children to hear music memory contest selections, the club learned that a ruling of the board of education prohibited any mention of the children's concert being made in the schools.

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board of education, has been asked to modify the rules for this occasion and preparations were made to get news of the concert to the children in event the board fails to act.

EARL, COUNTESS OF CRAVEN LEAVE AMERICA ABRUPTLY

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, February 1.—Quite suddenly, while society was planning elaborate functions in their honor, the Earl and Countess of Craven have sailed for Europe.

Was it merely a coincidence, puzzled members of society were asking today, that the titled pair departed for Europe at almost the exact moment that Lady Cathcart, who openly eloped with the Earl of Craven a few years ago, was waving farewell to the sky-line of Liverpool, bound for New York.

The Countess of Craven, whose steadfast devotion drew her husband back to her side, causing him to forsake Lady Cathcart in South Africa, arrived in this country shortly before Christmas and her husband joined her here a week ago.

Lady Cathcart was divorced by the Earl of Cathcart, who named Craven as co-respondent.

The sensational affair between the divorced English beauty and the earl was not an enduring thing. He returned to the pretty Scotch girl who won his heart during the war. Their ships may pass in the night.

INTER-CIVIC BODY LAUNCHES MOVE TO 'GET OUT VOTE'

Definite plans for getting out a full vote in all future city, county and state elections were completed Monday afternoon by the Inter-Civic council at a meeting in the chamber building.

"We don't care how they vote," said the committee report, "just so they vote. The records show that only one in 14 citizens of voting age actually voted in the city primary of last September."

The Inter-Civic council is composed of the chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Cixitan, Exchange and Cooperative clubs. It was addressed Monday afternoon by Joel Hunter, president of the City Club of Atlanta, who submitted that club's report on "getting out the vote," drafted by William Burckel, chairman; Walter McElreath and Edgar Watkins. The report has also been submitted to the Presidents' club and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

He is very popular here and friends are rallying to his support and since the recent announcement of his probable candidacy he says that he has received many offers of support from all over the district.

Noted Agricultural Workers Will Meet For 3-Day Session

Leading agricultural workers of the south will gather here Wednesday for the opening session of a three-day conference, to be held at the Biltmore hotel. Leading representatives of agricultural colleges, experiment station officials and others interested in any way in progress and expansion of agriculture, will be present.

Prominent speakers will address sessions during the three days' series of conferences and practically every problem of the farmer will be taken up, it is pointed out.

BAILEY AND MILLER SENTENCED TO PEN

Robert Bailey and Carl Miller Tuesday entered pleas of guilty to charges of robbery and concealing stolen weapons and were sentenced by Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, to serve from 5 to 10 years on the chain gang.

They were jointly indicted August 28 on two counts in connection with the theft of an automobile, the property of M. L. Phillips, of Chamblee.

CHAMBER IS GIVEN NORCROSS PORTRAIT

A large, framed portrait of Paul Norcross, former president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will be hung today in the office of the chamber. It was made by Thurston Hatcher, Atlanta photographer.

Mr. Norcross, a distinguished engineer, was drowned in the sinking of a steamer in the Mississippi river near Memphis last May.

BAD CHECK FOR CAR GETS SKATER JAIL TERM

On a plea of guilt, Cleveland Pinson, charged with violating the federal automobile theft law, was given a sentence of two months in the Floyd county jail Monday in the federal court by Judge Samuel H. Sibley. Pinson rented an automobile in Birmingham and posted a check as a deposit on the car and drove it to Rome. The check was returned unpaid and he was arrested. He is a professional skater.

FOURTH TO DISCOUNT WARRANTS OF STATE

Acceptance of the 4.17 per cent bid of the Fourth National bank of Atlanta for discounting $3,000,000 in state school warrants for 1926 was announced Monday by Superintendent of Schools Fort E. Land. It is understood that four bids were received, but the names of the unsuccessful bidders were not made public.

This rate is slightly higher than that of last year, when the warrants were discounted at 3.99 per cent, also by the Fourth National bank.

At the same time the bid for the new warrants was accepted, a check for $2,252,370 was sent to the bank by State Treasurer William J. Speer, in final settlement for the 1925 warrants. The treasury also paid out Monday a total of $129,230 on warrants held by other banks and by individuals, making a total payment of $2,381,600, the largest transaction of its kind ever handled by the state.

It is understood the rates offered in the three unsuccessful bids ranged as high as 4.69 per cent, the Fourth National offer of 4.17 being the lowest.

Robert Strickland, Jr., vice president of the Fourth National bank, in a statement issued after his institution's offer had been accepted, declared the bank was purchasing the issue, as it did last year, as an investment for funds on hand resulting from a notable increase in deposits.

"It is bought as an investment, and not, as had been the case until last year, for resale to the security buying public," said Mr. Strickland. He declared that one of the pleasing features of last year's experience with the warrants had been the frequent expressions of pleasure that one Georgia bank was able and willing to meet the state's requirements in a matter of such magnitude and on terms more favorable than available in eastern financial centers.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed.

External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee.

It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Jacobs' Drug Store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—(adv.)

Ewing Will Aid In City Campaign For Emory Fund

"Every man, woman and child in Atlanta, regardless of religious affiliation, is vitally interested in the future of Emory university," declared J. H. Ewing, prominent realtor, Monday in announcing his acceptance of membership on the general committee to raise Atlanta's quota of $750,000 in the Emory expansion campaign. Mr. Ewing will head the public-at-large division.

"Emory is the property of the Methodist church," explained Mr. Ewing, "but it is not sectarian in any sense of the word. Less than half of its 1,905 students last year were members of the Methodist church. The remainder of the student body consisted of representatives of the Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Hebrew, Catholic, Christian, Congregational, Lutheran and Moravian faiths, as well as non-church members. Emory will always be open to students of high moral and intellectual purpose regardless of their religious affiliation."

Mr. Ewing expressed the opinion that the parents of the city especially should be interested in the Emory expansion program because it will make room at the university for their children. Last year 739 students or 40 per cent of Emory's total enrollment came from Atlanta and the immediate vicinity. The number of Atlanta students is increasing at a faster rate than the building and endowment of the university, according to Mr. Ewing, and consequently Emory must either provide additional funds or curtail its growth.

GIRL EVANGELIST OPENS COUNCIL MEET WITH PRAYER

Monday, for the first time in the history of city council, a feminine voice opened the session with prayer.

This distinction fell to Uldine Mabelle Utley, 13-year-old child evangelist, who is conducting a revival campaign at the Gospel Tabernacle on Capitol avenue. Miss Utley was present upon invitation of Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, mayor pro tem.

In contrast with the usual hubbub of voices as council meetings get into swing, a quiet hush prevailed when the youthful little figure in white stepped forward and began to speak.

As her prayer ended another council precedent had been broken. The presiding officer's gavel banged and the business of the session began, but in manner somewhat reflective and subdued.

E. C. HUDSON TAKES CHARGE OF DETAIL AT POLICE STATION

E. C. Hudson, newly elected acting police lieutenant, Monday morning assumed his duties, taking charge of his detail at 8 o'clock under Captain Grover C. Fain.

Before his elevation to a lieutenancy last Saturday night by the police committee, Hudson was connected with the plainclothes department where his ability brought about his promotion.

The position Lieutenant Hudson was elected to fill was made vacant by retirement of Lieutenant G. A. Maddox. Acting Lieutenant L. F. Carter being promoted to a regular lieutenancy and Hudson being named to succeed Carter.

HIGGINS IS GIVEN PASTEUR TREATMENT

Call Officer Luther Paul Higgins Monday began the Pasteur treatment at the Grady hospital after being severely bitten on the right hand by a dog at 210 Randolph street which was reported to be suffering from rabies.

Officer Higgins' pistol failed to fire when he pulled the trigger and the animal lunged forward, sinking his teeth into the officer's hand. It was killed by Higgins' partner, Officer J. L. Bowman.

SUN LIFE COMPANY OF CANADA OPENS ATLANTA BRANCH

In order to give better service to its many policyholders in Georgia, the Sun Life Assurance company of

J. T. WILSON.

Canada has opened branch offices here and will operate from headquarters at 1310-14 Citizens & Southern Bank building. This indicates a further development of that company's activities in the United States, officials stated.

J. T. Wilson, who has been appointed as manager of this branch, is a man of wide experience in the life insurance business, with which he has been connected for 25 years. During this period, his field experience ranged from that of underwriter to managerial responsibility. He was until recently president and managing director of the Maritime Life Insurance company, which he largely organized. Evidence of his broad outlook on insurance and business matters is seen from his nomination as president of the Life Underwriters' association of Canada and as a member of the international council representing the National Associations of Life Underwriters of the United States and Canada.

The Sun Life Assurance company already has made many staunch friends in the United States, having been operating here for 25 years and transacting business through 20 branches. The Sun Life is the largest international life insurance company in the world and is the greatest purely life insurance company of the British Empire. With insurances in force of more than a $1,000,000,000, its assets exceed $300,000,000 and the available surplus is nearly $40,000,000.

GET DEPORTATION WRIT FOR BOB-HAIRED GIRL

A deportation warrant ordering the return to Germany of Freida Solcher, German girl held in Atlanta in connection with certain irregularities in her entrance papers, was received Monday by M. A. Coykendall, local immigration officer. Evidence in the case was submitted to immigration department officials several weeks ago by Agent Coykendall.

When her case was heard the girl declared she did not want to be returned to Germany because of her bobbed hair. She said proper respect was not accorded bobbed-haired women in Germany.

$10,597 FOR MISSIONS RAISED BY METHODISTS

BETTER HOMES HEAD ON SHORT VISIT HERE

Following a short stay at the University of Georgia where she conferred with authorities of the State College of Agriculture, according to schedule arranged by Herbert Hoover, department of commerce head, Mrs. Mary Stuart Palmer, national field organizer for better homes in America, is spending a few days in Atlanta with Mrs. Newton C. Wing, Atlanta chairman and is conferring with a number of local men and women interested in the better homes plans for this city in 1926.

Mrs. Palmer says Atlanta's plans are imitated throughout the United States because this community is the only one on this country that has for three successive years been a prize winner for the trophies awarded by the national board to the place that contributes the most outstanding assistance in the growth of the better homes idea.

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Builds Up Weight in Three Weeks

Thin, run-down and underweight men, women and children can improve their health, increase their energy and put on from five to twenty pounds of good solid flesh in three weeks.

A new combination of yeast vitamines with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamines that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamine food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. It makes no difference how old you are—or how young you are—how long you have been underweight—or how much underweight you are, "ironized yeast" tablets are positively guaranteed to pick you right up, and add from five to twenty pounds of good firm flesh in three weeks' time. If they fail get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package, or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Desk 203, Atlanta, Ga.

SUZANNE AND HELEN TO MEET FIRST IN DOUBLES

EDITED by H.C.HAMILTON-

Champion's Scientific Methods Prove Too Much For Strength of Russian. Only Fall Comes After Long Struggle.

New York, February 1.—Joe Stecher, of Dodge City, Neb., claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, defeated Ivan Poddubny, of Russia, in what was advertised as a title match here tonight. Stecher scored the lone fall after one hour, 38 minutes and 47 seconds of wrestling with his deadly scissors combined with an arm-lock.

The Russian wrestler for an hour and a half frustrated all Stecher's attempts to clamp on his famous scissors, but once the title claimant locked his feet across Poddubny's body, it required only seven minutes to apply the arm lock and pin the challenger's shoulders to the mat.

Poddubny, known in grappling circles as "The Russian Lion," claims an undefeated record in 25 years of wrestling, his defeat tonight by Stecher being the first in his career. The Russian entered the ring weighing 248 pounds while Stecher tipped the scales at 212.

Ten thousand persons witnessed the match.

KOLOFF PICKED AS ZBYZSKO FOEMAN HERE

Koloff, the "Bulgarian lion," so-called will be Waldek Zbyszko's opponent when the famous Pole appears as headliner on John Contos' wrestling show to be staged at the city auditorium the night of February 9. Acceptance of terms for the bout was received by the Atlanta promoter Monday afternoon and instructions immediately were wired him.

While not so well known as his widely-acquainted opponent, Koloff nevertheless has a record surpassed by only a few heavyweight grapplers. He has to his credit victories over Ivan Linow, the Russian; Gardini, the Italian; has beaten Jime Londos, the Greek star, who featured the first Contos show here, and has taken one fall from Joe Stecher, who Monday night wrestled the newest Russian sensation, Poddobney.

In Zbyszkok Atlanta wrestling followers will be given their first glimpse at one of the most famous mat artists in the business. With his elder brother, Stanislaus, Waldek, Zbyszko has shared the spotlight among heavyweight foreigners and is recognized as one of the very finest wrestlers in the world. Koloff is regarded as a worthy foeman for him.

The card for February 9 has not yet been completed, but another pair of wrestlers will be supplied and efforts are being made to match Hollis Sullivan, the popular featherweight boxer of Marietta, with someone who can entertain him in a six-round fistic curtain-raiser.

Mobile Bears Sell Jim Riley

Mobile, Ala., February 1.—(Special.)—Homerun Jim Riley, who played such sensational ball with the Mobile Bears last season, will not be back here this season. He wanted to play in the Texas league, and Bob Weinacker, the local leader, has sold him to the Dallas club. Sherley, obtained from the Senators; Daughter, from the Dover team of the Eastern Shore league, and young Joe Heath, a Washington, D. C., semi-pro, will be tried out at Riley's old position.

Joe Thomas Dies At Boston Hospital

Boston, February 1.—(AP)—Joe Thomas, former pugilist, who had fought the leaders in both the welterweight and middleweight class died today at the Boston City hospital, after an operation for stomach trouble. He fought 32 rounds with Stanley Ketchel, then middleweight champion, the referee stopping the fight after Thomas had been knocked down 11 times and Ketchel had been sent to the mat seven times. Thomas fought three other battles with Ketchel. He defeated Honey Mellody.

Albany Y. Loses Gibson as Coach

Albany, Ga., February 1.—(AP)—Dan L. Gibson, for four years manager of the Albany Y. M. C. A. basketball team, has resigned and been succeeded by Major Frank L. Wood. Gibson had served the team continuously and played an important part in its rise from a small-town quintet to a five of state-wide recognition.

The team, after a season of ups-and-downs, is preparing this week for the hardest battle of the year, set for next Wednesday night, when it meets the Cincinnati Y cagesters.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.—(adv.)

EVANS TELLS WHY GOLFERS ACHE AFTER GAME

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—Blisters, callouses and lameness in a golfer indicate something wrong with his style of play, Chick Evans, formerly national open and amateur champion, said today in discussing the subject at an indoor golf school.

If the golf club be held properly and rightly swung with the correct stance, the easy stroke that results from this combination will not blister the hands, form corns on the fingers or induce sore muscles of the arms or body, he said.

In the same way, the golfer's feet will remain whole if the player wears shoes with heavy leather soles and the footwear be well-fitted, neither too tight nor too loose. Proper walking with an easy stride will keep the legs from lameness, while a proper pivot of the hips will chase soreness from the abdominal muscles.

BROWNS TRADE BUSH, TOBIN TO SENATORS

St. Louis, Mo., February 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns today announced the trade of "Bullet Joe" Bush, veteran pitcher, and Johnny Tobin, outfielder, to the Washington Senators for Tom Zachary, left-handed pitcher, and "Win" Ballou, a young right-handed pitcher. No cash was involved.

Bush, who is 34 years old, will be playing with his fifth team in the American league. He came to the Browns last winter in a trade for Urban Shocker. Last season Bush appeared in 33 games, was credited with 14 victories and lost 14 games. His earned run average was 4.56.

Tobin, 31, has been playing for St. Louis almost continuously since 1914. Last season he started off with a bad arm and Harry Rice obtained a hold on the right field job. Tobin's arm has greatly improved.

Zachary, although only 29, is regarded as a veteran. He joined Washington six years ago. Last season he won 12 games and lost 15. His earned run average was 3.84.

Ballou, obtained by Washington near the close of last season from Chattanooga of the Southern association, was used for a few innings in the world series.

Tri-State League Adds Two Clubs

Memphis, Tenn., February 1.—(AP) Addition of two clubs to the Tri-State league was voted by directors of the league at a meeting of the circuit here today. Sheffield and Tuscumbia, Ala., to be operated jointly under one franchise, was added as the seventh member, with the eighth club to be announced later. Several cities are under consideration for this place, including applications from Decatur and Albany, Ala., as joint operators; Florence, Ala., Newport, Ark., and Kennet, Mo.

The league last season was made up of Jackson and Dyersburg, Tenn., Corinth and Tupelo, Miss., and Jonesboro and Blytheville, Ark.

The directors decided on a 165-game season, to start on May 3 and close August 31, with a split season. The first half will close on July 5.

Herman Sends Foe To Hospital

Cleveland, Ohio, February 1.—Johnny Datto, a local Filipino fighter, was taken to Lakeside hospital tonight with several fractured ribs and internal injuries after he had been knocked out by Babe Herman, the New York featherweight, in the last session of a 12-round bout at Public hall. Datto made a good showing the first two rounds, but the balance of the battle was unanimously conceded to Herman.

Four Golfers Tie For First Place

Hot Springs, Ark., February 1.—H. E. Maidt, amateur, and Bill Creary, professional, both of Oklahoma City, tied with June Colton, Pine Bluff, Ark., amateur, and John Golden, Paterson, N. J., professional, for first place in the amateur-pro low ball event of the South-Central open tournament at the Hot Springs Country club today, turning in a 68, six below par. It will necessitate an 18-hole play-off.

HURST'S NERVE AS AN UMPIRE UNEXCELLED

(Following is the sixtieth article of a series entitled "Rounding Third," by Eughie Jennings, on his 34 years of major league baseball service.)

BY HUGH A. JENNINGS.

CHAPTER 60.

Tim Hurst was the most colorful of all umpires. He had courage, the spirit of adventure, the quick wit and the similarly quick temper of the Celt. He was a first-class umpire in every way and although prone to make mistakes like the rest of us, he never tried to even up. If he called one wrong, he would not call another wrong to square things. An added wrong never made a right with him, as it does with so many umpires. He was never what is called a "homer," an umpire who will always favor the home team in the close decisions and therefore stand well with the fans in every city. Tim called them as he saw them. You could always depend on him to give you what was coming to you away from home.

After you got to know Tim's traits and characteristics, you came to realize that he could not be bullied. Kicking got you nowhere with him. Here is an incident that will illustrate what I mean, an incident typical of Tim:

Detroit and Cleveland were playing in Cleveland. When Cleveland came to bat in the last half of the ninth, Detroit was leading by 3 to 2 score. Cleveland got two men on bases with two out and Charlie Hickman was sent to bat for the pitcher. Bill Donovan, in the box for Detroit, handed Hickman a wide one and then shot a fast one by him. Hickman ignored the fast ball and it was a sure strike. With the count one and one, Donovan crossed up Hickman by sending a fast one over the outside corner. Hickman did not offer. Hurst called it a strike. Hickman objected, saying:

"You dirty stiff, what'd you call a ball like that a strike for? You must have gone totally blind; you're too old to see anyway."

"Is that so, Charlie?" answered Tim. "I'm blind, am I? I'm too old to see, am I? Well, I'll tell you, Charlie, just for that everything he throws you after this will be a strike no matter how bad it is."

Signals Pitchout.

Charlie Schmidt, who was catching, took his hint from what Hurst said. He signalled for a pitchout. Donovan looked puzzled, but Schmidt repeated the signal for a pitchout. Donovan pitched the ball one foot wide of the plate.

"Strike three," yelled Tim as loud as he could yell. Hickman was struck out and the game was over.

Tim was game to the core. An incident happened in Pittsburgh that brought this out forcibly. He gave a decision about the seventh inning that displeased the crowd. Baltimore won the game and the Pittsburgh rooters blamed the defeat on Tim's decision. As the last out was made, the crowd swarmed on the field. The Baltimore players surrounded Tim and escorted him to the clubhouse. To reach the locker rooms you had to go up a runway on the outside of the clubhouse. The crowd was packed around this runway and as Tim reached the top he was hit in the chest by a brick. Tim saw the brick leave the man's hand and without a second's hesitation he leaped into the crowd to get the man that threw it. Tim's fists were both swinging but he was no match for the crowd. He was knocked down but before any serious damage could come to him, the police rescued Tim, saving his life.

More of His Nerve.

Another demonstration of his nerve came one day in Cleveland. The Baltimore Orioles and the Cleveland Spiders were keen rivals in those days. They were playing a tight contest in Cleveland. Bill Hawke was pitching for Baltimore. Hawke had a fast dropping curve that few men ever hit after it broke. The curve was breaking good for him this day, right over the plate. Cleveland got a couple of and seriously threatened Baltimore's men on in the home half of the ninth one-run lead. Two were out when Patsy Tebeau, manager and first baseman of the Spiders, came to bat. Hawke tried to break a curve over the plate for the first strike. Tebeau, who had not been able to do a thing against Hawke all day, ran up this time and met the ball before it broke. He drove it over the left fielder's head, sending in the two runs and apparently winning the game.

Wilbert Robinson, catching for Baltimore, appealed to Hurst as soon as the ball was hit. He told Tim that Tebeau had run two feet out of the batter's box and was automatically out. This was true and Hurst agreed.

"You're out," shrieked Hurst.

There was a great commotion. Everybody got into the argument. Hurst explained to Tebeau that he was out and told him why. The mob called for Tim's blood. There were demands that he be lynched.

Hurst yelled, "You're out, Tebeau, and you stay out. The game is over."

Turning, he started for the clubhouse, glaring in menacing manner to the right and left. Of all the howling mob none laid a hand on Hurst. They even opened a path for him and belligerently and defiantly Hurst marched to the clubhouse.

There are a great many more incidents in which Hurst figured. A few of them will be recalled in the next chapter.

Smithies Battle Bluebirds Today

The headliner on today's prep basketball program will be the game between Tech High, now leading the league with a clean slate, and University school, in second place. The two teams will meet on the Henry Grady court this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Boys' high will take on Marist at the Marist court. G. M. A. goes to Decatur, and Fulton will be at home to Marietta.

If the Smithies win today they will practically cinch the prep league championship.

Greyhound Racing Thrives in Florida

Greyhound racng is rapidly gaining favor in Florida, becoming a major sport attraction. Race tracks, patterned after the one with the automatic rabbit, invented five years ago by O. P. Smith, of Tulsa, Okla., now are in operation in St. Petersburg, Miami and Tampa. A dog track is being opened at Sarasota and one is planned for Deland.

Iowa Track Officials Wear Full-Dress Suits

At a recent indoor interclass track meet at Iowa university the fans were treated to a great surprise when all the officials of the affair appeared in full dress suits. It was thought the attendance of co-eds at the meets at the Hawkeye institution brought about this innovation.

Champion's Career.
Manager Has Faith.
Jim Londos Beaten.

ANOTHER tragedy of the ring is quietly working itself out on the person of Babe Asher, who was bantamweight champion of the American expeditionary forces, and who, since his return to the United States from France, has achieved more than passing fame in his professional engagements. Dispatches from St. Louis say the nervy little fellow is about to go blind and that surgery soon will be resorted to in an effort to relieve his condition. It is certain, however, that no matter how successful the operation may be, Asher never will fight again.

Too often these things have happened to boxers. A bucket of dirty water, a filthy sponge, an attendant crude in his methods of ministering to a cut eye, and several other things have been given the blame for them. Whether Asher is a victim of progressive disease or has fallen victim to some insanitary handler is not known.

JOE SHUGRUE, who knocked out Benny Leonard early in the retired lightweight champion's career, was operating a roadhouse near New York the last we heard of him. He is totally blind from an infection received during his ring days.

Pete Herman, who won the world's bantamweight championship twice, is almost totally blind from the same cause. He fought Joe Lynch in a game effort to win the title the third time and fought when he could see with only one eye and with that only partially.

BILLY LOTZ still has faith in Billy Duggan, his heavyweight, and probably will try to show him to Atlanta fans. The young Georgian is living near Rome, taking better care of himself, according to letters he has been writing Lotz, and has overcome the distressing digestive disorders he has blamed for defeats of late.

Duggan writes that he believes he surely will win his next start, particularly if Lotz himself is in the corner instead of someone who doesn't inspire him with confidence.

THROUGH the columns of The Philadelphia Inquirer we learn with something of a shock that when we watched Jim Londos taking flying falls out of Farmer McLeod in a mat decision here recently we were watching a millionaire. Greek friends of Londos in Philadelphia, where he often has wrestled, and where he is well known, are authorities for the statement.

It seems that Londos, who long has been the best man at his weight in the world, has made plenty of money, invested it wisely, lived well within his means, and has watched his fortune grow to more than a million.

NEW YORK BASEBALL TALK

BY FRANK GETTY.

New York, February 1.—Looking backward over a span of 50 years of organized baseball, men who helped build the national pastime to its present prominence as well as those who are leading figures of the game today are gathered in New York for the Golden Jubilee banquet of the National league, which will be held at the Hotel Astor Tuesday night.

Lobbies of New York hotels are blue once more with smoke of baseball cigars. Talk of baseball trades and cheerful reminiscences of old-timers burying old baseball grudges in the haze of fellowship hums through the corridors.

Only one of the pioneers is left—A. G. Mills, a veteran of the civil war.

Nearly 80 years old, but still an enthusiastic baseball fan, Colonel Mills, who is here for the banquet, recalled that it was he who drew up the original national agreement.

Colonel Mills was elected president of the league in 1882, and the following year drew up the national agreement, by which the National league and the American association stood and fought the "outlaws" of baseball and won.

Two governors, a number of congressmen, and various widely-known figures will help celebrate the conclusion of the National league's fiftieth year. The Pittsburgh Pirates, having won a world's championship for the parent organization, will share honors will Colonel Mills and the old-timers.

Meanwhile, with managers, owners and players circulating through hotel lobbies, much current baseball gossip was overheard.

Travis Jackson, the Giants' shortstop, is the happiest youngster in town. His trick knee has been pronounced sound, and he will be able to start the season.

Eddie Collins, manager of the White Sox, added another report about shortstops by saying that Moe Berg, who used to play at Princeton and who was farmed out by Brooklyn to the Reading club, of the International league, would start the season at short for the Sox.

Garry Herrmann, president of the Reds, said Charley Dressen, the former St. Paul infielder, who had a bad arm last season, has recovered, and will play with Cincinnati, despite some sizable offers for his services.

Rogers Hornsby and Sam Breadon said the Cardinals were not likely to win the National league pennant this season, but "will be up in the race."

Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, was all smiles, and the subject of scores of congratulations until it seemed to him like mid-October all over again.

"We'll start the season with the same team that won the world's championship," Bill announced. "We've got an ideal baseball combination—youth and experience."

Miller May Coach At N. Carolina U.

Chapel Hill, N. C., February 1.—(Special.)—Don Miller and Harry Stuhldreher, two of the famous "four horsemen" of Notre Dame fame, arrived here tonight and went into conference with University of North Carolina athletic officials. The committee went into executive session and newspaper men were not admitted, but it was learned later that the discussion had to do with selection of one or more athletic coaches.

The university officials said the purpose of the meeting was to get personally acquainted with Miller and Stuhldreher, who had been recommended to the coaching committee of the alumni. It was stated that no decision as to a new coach or coaches, for the university is considering adding two or more men to the present staff, would be made for some days yet. Meanwhile the committee will continue to consider recommendations that have been made by various alumni groups.

It is understood the committee will meet a Princeton man Tuesday or Wednesday and will get in touch with others during the week.

Net Champion Wins Fast Game

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Playing the first indoor competitive match of her career today, Mary K. Browne, former national women's tennis champion from Santa Monica, Cal., triumphed with difficulty over the severe stroking of Florence Ballin, of New York, in the opening round of the annual Heights Casino invitation tournament.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, also a former champion and a winner of the Casino tournament last year, drew a first-round bye and scored easily in her second round match against Mrs. Edward Raymond, of Scarsdale, N. Y.; 6-2, 6-1. Other seeded players to advance were Miss Martha Bayard, of Short Hills, N. J., who defeated Miss Edwina Cruickshank, of New York, 6-3, 6-0, and Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, of Boston, who eliminated Mrs. J. E. Bailey, of New York, 6-1, 6-2.

Billy Knox Kept Out Of Big Pin Classic

Billy Knox, of Philadelphia, famed as the only bowler to roll the perfect 300 score in the history of the American Bowling congress, will be missing this year when the experts gather at Toledo March 6 to April 5, as he is recovering from a recent severe illness. Knox rolled his score in Toledo in 1913 in the second game of his individual matches. Charles Trucks, who has paired with Knox in many bowling classics, will also remain at home, although the Quaker City will send at least five five-men squads. It has 64 teams in the city association of the A. B. C.

11 VETERANS OF GA. DIAMOND SQUAD RETURN

Athens, Ga., February 1.—(AP)—Eleven letter men from last year's baseball team will greet Coach W. P. White when he sounds the call for diamond practice in a few weeks. Only three "G" men will be absent, but they all are pitchers.

The absentees are former Captain J. D. Thomason, who pitched and played first base as well as serving as an outfielder; "Bill" Munday, pitcher, and Andy Chambers, pitcher.

The old members of the 1925 team who are back are "Skeet" Johnson and George Morton, catchers; Tully, first baseman and pitcher; Satloff, second base; Captain Nolen Richardson, shortstop; Middlebrooks, third base; "Mickey" Frain, "Scrappy" Moore and Arenowitz, outfielders, and Kain and Nelson, pitchers. All of these players are veterans with the exception of the pitchers.

Nelson was used as a relief hurler last year, while Kain was kept out of most of the lineups on account of an operation early in the season.

From the reserves are Goddard, an outfielder; Hollis, outfielder; Ruffin, infielder and outfielder; Curran, pitcher. All of these will be on hand when practice begins, while from the championship freshman team, an outfit that won eleven games and lost none last season, will be Keating, Waller, McWhorter and Stewart, pitchers; Nash, first base; Dowis, second base; Freeman, shortstop; Fleming, infielder; Shivar and Steele, outfielders.

This gives Coach White an array of 26 men to make his selections from, while nearly that many more who have ambitions on the diamond will report for early practice. The schedule has not been announced, but it will carry about the same teams as previously played, it is understood, including the leading southern college teams and a number from the north and east.

Army "Alumni" Pleased At Jones' Appointment

Appointment of Biff Jones as head coach of the Military academy at West Point to succeed Captain John McEwan, who resigned to take over the coaching position at the University of Oregon, is meeting with approval of former Army football players. Colonel H. B. Hackett, one of the greatest all-around athletes in West Point's athletic history, who lives in Chicago, claims Jones is just the man needed for the position.

Tennis Champions Seeded for Clash In Final at Nice

Miss Wills Objects To Non-resident English Ball And Postpones Her Appearance As Player In Singles Tournament.

Cannes, February 1.—The edge has been taken off the impending match between Helen Wills and Suzanne Lenglen by an announcement that they will meet first in doubles play in the Nice tournament which starts this week.

Despite general disappointment that the initial meeting between the champions will not be in the singles, there is a tremendous demand for tickets, and would-be spectators are bidding high for the best seats.

Suzanne changed her mind for the third time and announced her entry in the singles at Nice, but Miss Wills is playing only in the women's doubles and mixed doubles. The Californian objects to playing with the Slazenger ball, which will be used at Nice and which is not suited to her smashing style of game. The English ball is grooved and has not the vigorous rebound of the American ball to which Miss Wills is accustomed.

Organizers of the Nice tourney, who expect to reap a harvest from the fact that both Helen and Suzanne are playing, have "seeded" the draw, so that the champions are in different brackets and probably will meet in the finals. In the mixed doubles Miss Wills is partnered with the Swiss champion, Aeschleman, and they make a strong team. Suzanne would have liked to have had Jacques Brugnon as a partner, but the veteran French star is due to sail for the United States to participate in the indoor matches, and Mlle. Lenglen is looking elsewhere for the strongest player she can find.

Unfortunately for Miss Wills' chances in the women's doubles, she is paired with Miss Bennett, an English girl, who is not a particularly strong player and who is weak at net play, which counts for much in doubles play. Suzanne has Mrs. Aeschleman as her partner and they present a powerful combination.

There is no doubt about Mlle. Lenglen being at the top of her game, as she swept through her doubles matches Monday, winning them all in love sets.

In her singles match against Mlle. Contoslavos, in which she won the finals of the Gallia tournament in straight sets, the American champion showed an improved game. The scores were 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Wills was never hard pressed. Her service was strong, but her overhead game was shaky.

BRAVES SIGN HEARNE, STAR OF BRIDGEPORT

BY IRWIN M. HOWE.

Opposing batters had nothing soft against the Boston Braves' pitchers last season. There was Larry Benton, for instance, who won four games from the Cubs and three from the Cardinals without losing one. John Cooney bowled over Brooklyn four in a row. Now more trouble is in store for the National league sluggers unless it should turn out that Elmer Hearne is a better steam fitter than a pitcher.

Elmer will be new to opposing batters. He never has been under the big tent before but his work with the Bridgeport club of the Eastern league recommended him to the Braves scouts and he was signed up.

Elmer was quite a pitcher eight years ago. In the Bushwick high school in Brooklyn his mates thought he was the best ever. He was then 14 years old and not very tall. In fact he stopped growing after he attained the height of 5 feet 7 1-2 inches, but not in girth, as he finished the season last fall tipping the beam at 170 pounds. If it wasn't for the poundage he would be another edition of Dick Kerr, but in this he has considerable on the White Sox midget.

Being born a southpaw he didn't figure it worth while to try to change his style, so a portside flinger he is and as foxy as they come. He played with his high school team for three years and he edged into the professional class by signing with Salisbury team of the Eastern Shore league in 1922, with which team he remained for four years.

Establishes Records.

The Shore league is perhaps not the classiest aggregation on the baseball map but it is on record that a lot of good ball players have graduated from this circuit. Hearne threatens to become another one. For three years Elmer held the strikeout record in the league, both seasonal and otherwise.

Last season he was advanced to Bridgeport where he proceeded to stand the best batters in the league on their respective heads. He pitched in 263 innings and struck out 161. Being a southpaw and a young one at that he was expected to be wild. He only partly fulfilled expectations. He handed out 95 passes, hit six batters and made ten wild pitches. They can do better than that in the majors and get away with it. When it was over he had won 18 and lost 12 games.

Prior to his advent in the Eastern he set another record in the Lake Shore by striking out 29 men in two consecutive games, which put his name into the newspaper headlines. In addition, in his first year as a "pro," he won 12 games in a row.

Hearne was born January 13, 1904, in Brooklyn, N. Y., which just about makes him old enough to sign his own contract. In the winter time he has a regular job at steam fitting and he knows where he can go should Fate deal him a blank in the big show. Although he confines his pitching to his left arm he can handle the plumber's tools with both hands and on the diamond he shows an equal versatility by batting on either side of the plate.

OVERCOAT AND BULBS STOLEN FROM PASTOR

Robbery of the study of Rev. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the Second Baptist church, at Trinity avenue and Washington street, was reported to detectives Monday by B. J. Roberts, secretary to the pastor.

An overcoat and several electric light bulbs were taken, although the thief failed to find the money Mr. Roberts left on his desk after services Sunday night.

SHACKELFORD BETTER AFTER ATTACK OF FLU

W. E. Shackelford, who has for many years been connected with undertaking establishments in Atlanta, was reported to be recuperating from a severe attack of pneumonia and influenza Monday at St. Joseph's infirmary. Mr. Shackelford was taken to St. Joseph's several days ago in a serious condition. He is at present with the Awtry & Lowndes company.

$8,000,000 Bond Issue Favored By Finance Body Schools To Get $3,000,000

Mayor Sims Approves Plan, Provided It Does Not Increase City Tax Rate.

Schools of Atlanta will get $3,000,000 out of the proposed consolidated bond issue of $8,000,000, the amount unofficially fixed by members of the finance committee of council and Mayor Walter A. Sims at an informal conference Monday. The $8,000,000 issue will supplant the proposal for a $6,000,000 issue which has been held in favor heretofore by the committee.

Mayor Sims gave his approval of the $8,000,000 issue provided it can be obtained without an increase in the city tax rate.

Final action on the bond issue proposal has not been taken by the committee pending the approval of the legality of such an issue by the city attorney. The $8,000,000 plan will be submitted to the city attorney by City Comptroller B. Graham West.

Under the $8,000,000 plan the schools will receive $3,000,000, sewers $2,500,000, school equipment $500,000, viaducts $1,000,000 and new city hall $1,000,000. This allotment was outlined to members of the committee by Chairman A. J. Orme, of the finance committee.

Prior to the submission of the $8,000,000 plan prepared by Comptroller West the finance committee had under consideration a $6,000,000 program. This plan provided $2,000,000 for schools and supporters of a greater school system expressed opposition to this measure.

Mr. West's plan provides that the first series of bonds shall mature July 1, 1931, and that the annual sinking fund for the retirement of the bonds amount to one-twenty-fifth of the total issue instead of one-thirtieth. This would give the city five years before it became necessary to raise the money for the first payment of the bonds and by that time the increased taxation values would provide the money without the necessity of a raise in the rate of taxation. The one-twenty-fifth payment would amount to $320,000 a year instead of $266,666 under the one-thirtieth annual payment plan.

Although the committee members approved tentatively the $8,000,000 bond issue they did not approve as a whole the apportionment of funds as suggested by Chairman Orme. It was indicated from statements of members that efforts will be made to increase the allotment for schools at the expense of some of the other items.

MITCHELL IS MILD IN NEW AIR ATTACK

travels and my studies have included the military and political systems in the nations of Asia and Europe.

"Command of our air forces in the world war and the privilege of directing the greatest concentration of allied air power ever participating in actual combat was entrusted to me.

"The sinking of battleships by aircraft projected and completed under my direction has revised and changed all systems of national defense. Hostile navies are no menace to our country if there is adequate air power.

"The flights to Alaska and later around the world, the airplane tests across the continent, which led to the establishment of the air mail, our methods of fighting in the air and the kinds of aircraft to meet our special American conditions were also initiated under my direction.

Great Pride in Record.

"I look back on this record with the greatest pride, and with the satisfaction that I have done everything possible for my country. After all these years of service, not one dark spot can be found on my record, and not one act which does not redound to the credit of the United States.

"The United States remains today unorganized for modern defense. In spite of the expenditure of nearly $500,000,000 for aviation since the war and the loss of scores of our airmen, we have no real military air force for the protection of our great country. We are left hopelessly behind in our civil and commercial aviation, and we have no plan or system whatever for furthering and developing this most important agency.

Due to Bureaucracies.

"This condition is due to the blind opposition of the regular army and navy bureaucracies that have abrogated to themselves the policy of standing squarely in the way of any progress, and constantly advocate the theories of the bow and arrow men of a barbarous age. Calling to their aid the instrumentalities of propaganda and unionized control, they have consistently and purposely misled congress and the people as to what this country needs to insure its security. They have entrenched themselves behind a bureaucratic system, run by self-perpetuating oligarchies. They have manipulated the laws so that they can control the armed forces, even against the action of the president himself. They have coerced, bulldozed and attempted to ruin patriotic officers who have disagreed with their views and who sought to better our national defense which the officers and men of the armed service know is necessary.

"Due to the military bureaucracies, our land and sea forces, composed of splendid men, are shaken in their conception of duty, lacking confidence in the army and navy as institutions and dubious of their own future. The inexcusable losses of our air and sea forces are mute examples of inefficiency and negligence, in spite of the vigorous whitewashing attempted by the army, navy and executive boards.

Judge of Own Faults.

"When the actions of the army and navy are brought into question, they themselves are the sole judges of their shortcomings.

"The military bureaucracy, resisting all innovations, has become such that it is impossible to secure any needed changes in the system. The reasons they give are veiled in mystery and secrecy, so as to confuse the public, whereas actually the conditions to be met are simple and public. This is one of the greatest menaces of our free institutions that has ever occurred. The bureaucratic party, as it might be called, in its inner workings in Washington, is more powerful than the democrats and republicans, more powerful than the influence of any creed or sect or religious order. Our government has become one of bureaucratic domination. This condition must be stopped.

"Our national defense should be organized into a single department and under it there should be subdepartments for the air forces, the land forces and the sea forces, each with an equal voice and each privileged to present their views without restraint or coercion to a secretary of national defense. This is a single concrete problem for the whole country. It is not an army and navy matter alone. Our defense must not be unionized ony more than the police force of our cities.

U. S. Lagging Behind.

"Every civilized nation in the world has taken these conditions into account and have organized their national defense accordingly. We lag behind due to the blind, ignorant and bigoted opposition of our army and navy.

"In our beloved America, the greatest of all countries, we must adopt a national defense policy founded on our particular needs, based on the abundance of our raw materials, the excellence of our industries and the remarkable intelligence of our people.

"I have the greatest respect and affection for my comrades in the army and navy, with whom I have participated in many campaigns and expeditions, and with my companions in the air services, who are the principal ones we must look to for our security. I shall keep close touch with them in the future.

Must Be Overhauled.

"However, the administration of our national defense by the bureaucracies maintained by the army and navy oligarchies passes the limit of our national conscience and must be thoroughly overhauled at once. For years, I worked to better conditions from within the service.

"The growing opposition to modernization exhibited by the army and navy bureaucracies and the inexcusable killing of my comrades in the air forces sent on propaganda missions to county fairs by non-flying service politicians, made drastic and instant action a necessity.

Much Good to Follow.

"Every statement I have made has been supported by good and sufficient evidence. Good has already resulted and much more will follow.

"From now on, I feel that I can better serve my country and the flag I love by bringing a realization of the true condition of our national defense straight to the people, than remaining muzzled in the army.

"I shall always be on hand in case of war or emergency, wherever I am needed."

Centre College Prexy Is Defiant About Quitting

Danville, Ky., February 1.—(AP)—Dr. R. Ames Montgomery, president of Centre college, broke the silence he had maintained since December 17 when the majority of the college's student body requested his resignation in a petition to the Centre college board of trustees, and declared in chapel today his intention of remaining at the head of the "Praying Colonel" institution.

The president's declaration today came unexpectedly. Also it was uttered in no mild terms.

"It makes no difference if everybody at Centre college leaves school. The college will go on just the same and prexy will be in the saddle," Dr. Montgomery declared.

Dr. Montgomery requested that his intention to stay be kept from the press.

"I loathe the publicity of the press," he explained.

At the time the students' petition came to light, it was declared Dr. Montgomery's resignation was asked because of his stand on athletics, especially football. Later a statement was issued by Centre executives declaring athletics had nothing to do with the petition.

Today during the president's speech, which lasted 40 minutes, only once did the executive refer to athletics and said that it was not right for a coach to get so much money for three months' work.

In the same petition the students requested the resignation of Professor Hickman W. Carter, business manager of Centre college. Mr. Carter offered the resignation within two weeks, but so far as is known no action by the trustees has been taken on it.

DAWES UNABLE TO SPEAK HERE TO MANUFACTURERS

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—Vice President Dawes today declined an invitation to address the American Manufacturers' association in Atlanta. He told Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, and George S. Harris, president of the Georgia Cotton association, who extended the invitation that he would be unable to accept on account of official duties.

think it would be more than that ultimately—"

"Provided I could make a 50-year lease," interposed General Taylor.

"That would be 4 1-2 per cent on a total investment of $44,000,000?" inquired Byrns.

"Yes, sir, there is not the slightest question in the world, Mr. Byrns, but that if you could make a lease of 50 years, that you could make more than $2,000,000 a year."

GROUNDHOG TO HUNT FOR SHADOW TODAY

but as the day grows the thermometer will rise.

The mercury, which registered a low mark of 42 degrees Monday morning and climbed to 52 in the afternoon, will drop to 36 degrees this morning. It is predicted, however, that the temperature will rise during the day to Monday's high mark of 52.

But back to the ground hog's prediction—it is mighty important.

If there's to be six weeks more of winter, it means we must buy more of this new fangled, highly inflamable coal which burns at the rate of two tons to a grate every week. It means that six weeks will elapse before the overcoat can be sent to the hock shop; before young onions will spread their aroma at the table and before the old red flannels, if any are worn any more, are consigned to the moth balls.

But if Old Man Ground Hog does not see his shadow we'll have an early spring. This means early sap-rising; early turning of young men's fancies to thoughts of supplying their flappers with cigarettes; early turnip greens, and early claims of pennant-winning teams.

So here's to the ground hog's shadow—may he never see it this good year, so the multitudes can cast to the junk pile their ear muffs, foot warmers, hot-water bags, frozen water pipes, heatless heaters, goloshes, flannels, anti-freeze radiator concoctions, snow shoes and plumbers' bills.

The weather bureau has hinted officially that we will have an early spring, but it will require the authoritative action of the ground hog today to confirm any such rumors to all of us people who buy oil stocks, learn in correspondence schools how to become a public speaker in three weeks and who believe implicitly the statement of the salesman that the new Gazookus car will run 38 miles on one gallon of gasoline.

NEW TRIAL GIVEN MAN THREE TIMES SENTENCED committed on Janunary 15, 1921, at the old Bigham home near Pamplico, in Florence county.

Mrs. Dora Bigham, the mother of the defendant; Mrs. Margie Black, his sister, and Leo and John McCracken, two small adopted children of Mrs. Black's, were found dead or dying from pistol wounds late in the afternoon of January 15. On the following day, the body of Smiley Bigham was found dead in a little clump of trees about three-quarters of a mile from the home, a pistol loosely grasped in his right hand.

Edmund at Home.

Edmund Bigham and his family were at the home when the first outsiders arrived after the tragedy. To these Edmund declared that his mother, before dying in his arms, had told him that Smiley "did it." He explained that he and his family had just returned to the home after a business trip to the home of a nearby negro.

A few days later, after the five victims of the tragedy had been buried, Edmund was arrested on a warrant charging murder, sworn out by John ("Hamp") McCracken, father of the two slain children.

In his first trial at Florence early in 1921, and since that time, Edmund Bigham has maintained his innocence, asserting that Smiley, worried over financial matters and other things, had slain his kinsfolk, and committed suicide. His wife and two young daughters corroborated his testimony supporting his alibi.

TRAFFIC HELD UP BY BROKEN WHEEL ON TROLLEY CAR

Street car traffic on Whitehall street was held up for more than 20 minutes Monday morning when a wheel was lost from a broken axle on an inbound Whitehall street car just beyond the Whitehall underpass. No one was injured in the accident, traction officials reported. All cars serving West End, College Park, East Point, Hapeville and other sections of the south end were temporarily halted and many automobiles were caught in the jam.

INSTALLMENT XLIV.

HARGRAVE HEARS ROBERT'S STORY.

Robert looked across at Hargrave in amazement.

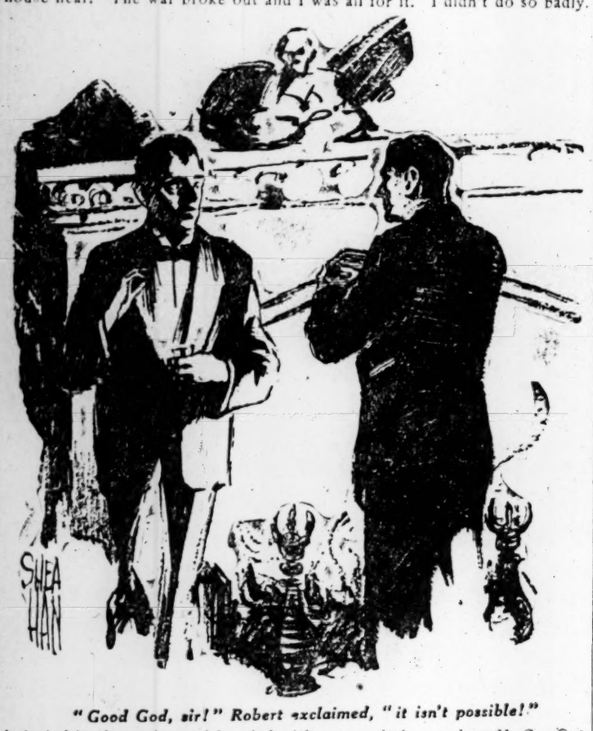
"Why, how did you guess that I'd fallen in love, sir?" he demanded.

"I didn't guess it at all," Hargrave replied. "Violet told me a little. The rest is pretty obvious. What's her father say about it?"

"Well, of course, he knows how we've been going on," Robert confided, "but he hasn't said anything so far. To tell you the truth, sir, I think that up till now Sadie has pretty well managed both her father and mother just as she liked. How things are going to turn out now, I haven't any idea. I can honestly say I never bothered about Sadie's money. I took to her from the first. I didn't even know her people were anything but moderately well off. I just liked her, and she seemed to like me. Now—well, I suppose so far as we two are concerned, we are practically engaged. She's promised to marry me. She'd marry me next week if she could—and I'm going to see the old man in a day or two. Sadie thought I'd better leave him alone this week. He's over here on a matter of business which isn't exactly going right."

"We'll have this matter out thoroughly," Hargrave said, leaning over to a rack, selecting a pipe, and carefully filling it. "A month or so ago you were in love with Violet."

"I suppose I was sir," Robert admitted, "but it was a different sort of thing. You see, I was born in the same village. My father was a land agent there; her's was the doctor. Naturally we saw a great deal of one another. Then Violet's father died—he was a widower—and there was very little money left. Violet stayed on for a time as governess at a house near. The war broke out and I was all for it. I didn't do so badly.



"Good God, sir!" Robert exclaimed, "it isn't possible!"

I started in the ranks, and I ended with a commission, and an M. C. Our troubles began afterwards. I had the devil's own job getting anything to do. Violet had given up teaching and had spent the little money she had left on a course of manicuring. We drifted together in London; I wasn't so strong as I had been, and she looked after me. We neither of us had any other friends to speak of. I kept on being ill, and she kept on coming to nurse me. In the end we got engaged. I don't think Violet was ever the least bit in love with me. I was a bit of home, I'd had bad luck, I needed looking after. To me, Violet was wonderful because she was so brave and capable. I was proud to be engaged to her. I never loved her as I do Sadie. She was always stronger than I was—always helping me when I ought to have been helping her. I don't think a man ever cares properly for a woman when it's like that. He likes to be the one who protects. He likes to be the stronger, the one who's looked up to. I was proud of Violet; I admired her immensely, but she made me feel small. You don't mind all this, sir?"

"Of course, I don't," Hargrave assured him, with a kindliness in his tone which surprised even himself. "I am interested. Don't hurry. Just get it all out in your own way."

"Well, London began to eat into both of us," Robert went on. "I worked as hard as I could, but I'd been gassed and those fogs were awful. I couldn't earn more than forty-four shillings a week, and it was damned hard to live on it. Violet could have had all the things the other girls had, but she meant going straight from the first and things aren't the same for a girl like that. They aren't so easy when she's got her living to make. She was just as hard put to it as I was. And behind us we had the memory of those comfortable days down in the country when I had a horse to ride in the holidays and she drove her father round in his car and had all the tennis and dances and fun that she wanted. We were up against it at our worst when you came along. I've never quite understood, even now, why Violet took on your offer. I've known her since she was six years old, and I've never known her to tell a lie. The fact of it was that at that moment we were both at breaking point. Anyway, she worked herself up to it; with me it wasn't so difficult. I'd have lied my way down to hell to have got what you've given us. May I finish, sir?"

Hargrave, who had shown signs of interrupting, nodded. He crossed the room and helped himself to a little more whisky and soda.

"We came out here," Robert continued, "and I absolutely and completely lost my head. Every bit of the rotter there was in me came to the surface. If I had really been man enough to care for Violet as I ought to have done, that would have steadied me, but as it happens I didn't. I think in my heart I have always carried a sort of resentment against her because she was stronger and better and more capable and more wonderful in every way than I. Anyway, I had had three years of bloody war, two years of hospitals, and two or three years afterward of starvation, and I found myself out here with every luxury, everything that could make a man lose his head. It's a wonder I didn't go straight to the devil. I should have done but for Sadie. I met her by accident, we took a fancy to one another, and she found me one night when I was with the wrong people and behaving in the wrong way. My God, sir, you should have heard her!"

"I've seen the young lady," Hargrave murmured.

"Anyway," Robert continued, "I had to choose, and I chose quick, and I was right. That's the only girl in the world for me, sir—Sadie—and how the devil to get her, I don't know, except that so far as she's concerned I'm safe. But I can't ask her to starve with me, I can't ask any one for charity. I want to know whether there's a chance of your putting in a word with the old man for me, telling him you're going to find me a job, or anything of that sort?"

"Finished?" Hargrave asked.

"I'm afraid I've bored you stiff, sir," Robert replied.

"Look here," Hargrave said, knocking out some ashes from his pipe, "mine's a shorter story, but I owe it to you just as you owed me the story you've just told. I'm a very rich man and I'm up against a curious situation. There are no certainties in this life, but a few months ago I was told that there was just a chance I might have to hand in my checks in a matter of twelve months."

"Perhaps not," Hargrave went on. "There may have been a mistake. Anyway it made me think, supposing these were my last six months, what should I do? I asked some of my friends as a problem. Gorse—you know him, the clergyman—put an idea into my head. 'Find some people,' he suggested, 'who are up against it hard but not objects of ordinary charity, and give them a good time for a few months. The next day I was in Violet's manicure parlor. She was pretty well fed up with everything, as you know—absolutely miserable, as a matter of fact. All the other girls in her place were coming south—you can guess how. She was left out because she is—what you know she is. It seemed to me I didn't need to go any farther. 'Find a relative,' I told her—I suggested the relative so that she shouldn't misunderstand me—'and I'll give you the holiday of your life.' She brought you—and that's my story."

Final Winter Month To Be Crowded With Social Gaieties

The first week of the final winter month will be crowded with a whirl of social gayeties, both formal and informal, bringing to a brilliant climax a season of unusual social triumph, for society will soon begin to observe the Lenten season.

Social events today will honor popular brides-elect and interesting visitors, while an artistic affair will be the art tea and musical at which Miss Mae Haverty will entertain at her home "Villa Clare," on Peachtree road, the guests to include members of Mrs. Robert Reed's circle of Sacred Heart church. Mrs. Jack Cohen, of New York, feted visitor, will be complimented with a bridge-tea this afternoon by Mrs. Thomas Morgan, this charming visitor being the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen, at their home on Peachtree street.

Miss Elizabeth Hawkins, a bride-elect, will be honored today by Mrs. Mary McCleskey Simmons at a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club at 1:30 o'clock. Miss Laura Jenkins and Miss Mona Louise Dudley, two attractive early spring brides-elect, will be recipients of a series of parties preceding their marriages. Miss Dudley will be honored this afternoon at an informal tea given by Mrs. Henry Fremont Lueking at her home at Fort McPherson. Mrs. Hugh Carmichael will entertain at a bridge-tea at her home on North Decatur road today, the occasion honoring Miss Jenkins.

Edward P. Cheyney To Speak at Agnes Scott.

The lecture association at Agnes Scott has been fortunate in securing as a speaker on Tuesday, February 2, Edward P. Cheyney, professor of European history at the University of Pennsylvania. The college considers this a rare opportunity, in that Mr. Cheyney seldom travels or lectures in southern institutions. Mr. Cheyney is the well-known author of many modern histories used as textbooks in the colleges of today. His books on the history of England are recognized by English authorities and leading critics of England agree that Professor Cheyney knows more about certain phases of the history of their country than any man living today. His presidential address made before the historical association is considered the finest of its sort ever delivered.

Mr. Cheyney will lecture to the college students this evening, February 2, using as his subject "Thus Was England Born." He will speak again Wednesday morning at the chapel hour at 10 o'clock on "Patriotism in Peace Time." The public is cordially invited to attend these lectures. Admission to the lecture on Tuesday night is one dollar.

Ivan G. Cochran's Birthday Celebrated.

At the close of a short business session held on Friday evening in the Masonic temple on Peachtree road members of Oglethorpe chapter, No. 122, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated Worthy Patron Ivan G. Cochran's birthday.

Mrs. Joe E. Haley, past grand organist, was in charge of the program and delighted the audience with several classical selections. Miss Mildred Mathieson and Miss Virginia Boyer rendered vocal selections appropriate for the occasion.

Among the interesting features was the introduction of a specially-prepared ceremony in which the marshal preceded the officers into the chapter room, followed by little Miss Cochran bearing the birthday cake with the lighted candles in emblematic colors, a gift from the worthy matron, Miss Alma Owens.

Mr. Cochran was the recipient of many useful gifts, and responded to the presentation speech in a suitable manner.

Mr. Cochran is well known in Masonic circles as well as Eastern Star, and recently was elected president of the young men's Bible class of the Morningside Presbyterian Sunday school.

Delicious refreshments were served in the banquet hall, which was elaborately decorated in the chapter colors. The tables were made most attractive with silver baskets holding vari-colored flowers and at intervals mints in bon-bon holders were placed. A cordial hour was heartily enjoyed.

Junior Insurance Group To Give Dance.

The Junior Insurance group of the Atlanta Woman's club will meet today at the home of Mrs. N. O. Newman, chairman, to discuss final plans for the delightful dance to be given Friday evening, February 5, at the clubhouse, No. 946 Peachtree street.

The chairman will preside. Every effort is being made to make this affair one of the most enjoyable ever had at the club. The banquet hall will be artistically decorated for the occasion, red predominating in the color scheme to carry out the valentine idea. A popular orchestra has been engaged and an interesting evening of music and dancing is promised those attending.

The ticket committee reports a large sale of tickets to members and friends of the club, groups of the younger social contingent and members of the following fraternities: Sigma Chi fraternity, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sgma Pi, Beta Theta Pi, Alphi Epsilon Pi, Phi Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Epsilon Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Chi Phi, Chi Psi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Pi Lambda Delta.

Bridge Luncheon Will Benefit Tallulah School

Much interest centers around the bridge-luncheon to be given February 12 at the Masonic temple on Lee street in West End by the Students' Aid and Tallulah Falls School committees of the Woman's Civic club of West End, and in which these two departments of federated work will share in the proceeds.

Mrs. C. C. Chamberlain, chairman of Students' Aid, and Mrs. H. A. Watts, chairman of Tallulah Falls school, are planning to make the affair not only a delightful social feature, but one of great benefit to the school and students' aid work, and it is hoped that those who have not yet made reservations will do so. Tables may be obtained by phoning Mrs. O. M. Bowling, West 1734, Mrs. H. M. Simpson, West 0780-J, Mrs. C. C. Chamberlain, West 1081, or any of the following committee: Mrs. T. S. Sells, Mrs. L. Z. Fleming, Mrs. Meyer Loveless, Mrs. Roger T. Lively, Mrs. I. D. Young, Mrs. H. W. Mason, Mrs. A. R. Kirby, Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. R. T. Connally and Mrs. V. L. Patton.

An entertaining feature during luncheon, at which the Henard company will act as hosts, Mrs. R. W. Underwood and Mrs. C. W. Jordan, chairmen, will be the dancing of Tootsie Dunbar, talented little dancer. There will be table prizes and many other lovely handmade articles as draw prizes. Any game desired may be played.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By IRENE CASTLE

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

The Folly

Of using just "any good soap" on your face

The kind beauty experts use themselves and how used

A SOAP may be good for any number of things, yet not be at all suited to the skin. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made basically for that purpose. A good complexion is too priceless for experiment.

Before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." All soaps then were judged too harsh.

Then came this famous beauty creation. A soap made by experts in beauty of rare cosmetic oils—and made solely for one purpose: to safeguard the complexion. A soap that changed the beauty methods of the world.

Leading skin authorities urge it. It has brought natural skin loveliness to more women than any other method known. In your own interest, use it according to the following rule for one week. Note the improvement your complexion shows:

Nature's rule to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion"

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Just do this and keep your skin soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance.

Get Real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois. 3164

FOUND BLACK-DRAUGHT PRAISE WELL DESERVED

How a merchant of near Statham, Ga., came to adopt Black-Draught as his favorite liver medicine is told in the following statement from Mr. H. A. Hardy:

"I heard Black-Draught praised continually, so what was more natural than that, when I was feeling all down and out one day, I decided to try it. I had a headache. My eyes burned and my mouth had a bad taste. I felt tight in my chest and my back ached. When I would stoop over I felt dizzy.

"I took a couple of doses of Black-Draught and I felt like a different person.

"My head seemed to just clear up. I was hungry and felt like getting out to my work.

"For years I have kept Black-Draught, and when I feel the need of a laxative I take it at night. When I feel like my food isn't digesting just right, I take it after meals. I have recommended it to others and have been told that it helped them.

"I haven't used any other medicine for years, as I am satisfied with Black-Draught."

"Satisfied with Black-Draught"—Thousands of others speak to the same effect by their continuous use of this well-known liver medicine.

Experimental remedies come and go. Thedford's Black-Draught has been on the market for more than eighty years.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to make. Saves about $2

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good, and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"SOUTHERN BELLES TAKE OVER ATHENS FOR WEEK-END"

"Chapter House Mothers" Prove an Innovation Welcomed by Other Mothers

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.

The week-end just passed brought one of the Athens social periods, which are so famous in southern hospitality and college circles.

What a magic word is Athens!

Not only to today's ranks, but to the girls and boys of many past periods. And these memories are quickened into life every time the word Athens is heard by any of these old fans.

Is there any other spot on earth where the young people have a better time during their gala intercollegiate periods?

And when there is an announcement of one of these, how the clans gather!

Not only is Atlanta always there, but so are all of the other southern cities.

"That is Miss Knowlton, of North Carolina."

"That is Phoebe Yancy, of New Jersey."

And thus it was, girls from Alabama, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Florida and where not!

And boys!

Where did THEY come from?

It looked as if they literally rained from the skies!

I did not know that there were so many boys in all of the world, surely!

I wonder this morning if there IS anything in the world besides DATES!

The Chaperone's Viewpoint.

Did I say "popular girls?"

Not necessarily "popular!"

How could a girl keep out of the popular complex in a case like this when there is such a preponderance of boys in a ratio which is entirely unjustifiable?

And these hungry boys shut off from things social, largely, during the ordinary period of school days!

A Method All Their Own.

And these girls—greedy things—have a method all their own of working in just as many as possible during the short allotment of only 24 hours!

The phone rings.

"Yes, I'll give you a breakfast date. That suits? Fine! See you at nine!"

Phone again.

"Oh, Hello, Bill! How in the world do you do? Crazy to see you! Yes, you may come at 9:30. Tom is coming at 10. Bye-bye, see you in the morning!"

Again.

"Oh, George! When did you get to Athens? How's Auburn? Yes, meet me in the lobby at 10:30. Am going to ride with Henry at 11. Fine. Will see you then!"

These same boys are trained to expect the like and the dates are automatically cut off and on as if by an electric switchboard!

After the Dance!

At this time a new order of things come into being and the "late dates" begin!

Don't let this horrify you too much until you know more of it!

These visitors have gathered from everywhere and there must be a chance at a word of greeting, at least, to old friends. The hour of separation draws nigh so quickly. The girls are chaperoned by loving, interested mothers who are unceasing in their care and wakefulness. The girls are most thoughtful and respectful, always getting permission, after the dance to go to some chapter house for a very much needed bite to eat or something equally as imperative. They keep the schedule, touching base according to promise! And always the car is full of friends—another element of safety.

And so this hour after the dance—the one of the "late date" isn't as bad as it sounds and really figures largely in these Athens items!

Atlanta Girls.

Some seen were Mary Rhorer, Rebekah Asheraft, Cordai Rice, Mary Middleton, Louella Everett, Edna Raine, Sarah Fisher, Ruth Moore, Jinx White, Pat Rogers, Joe Hollis and Florence Eckford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Neal, recent Atlanta participants in a society wedding, were making their first appearance as chaperons but little did they occupy the chaperons' bench!

No more attractive nor popular girl was to be seen on the floor than lovely Pauline Ware Neal. To her rare beauty there seems to have been added, along with her new title, an additional subtlety of charm.

Down in the busy arena of the game, there were two Atlantans as referees, whom it gave us pleasure to watch—Johnny Westmoreland and Emory Cocke.

Chapter House Mothers.

An innovation which is gaining prestige and popularity in the south is that of having house-mothers for the fraternity homes of our college boys.

In the hall of the home stood Mrs. Kinnebrow, the lovely house-mother, to greet and welcome the boys' guests.

From just an ordinary fraternity house, Mrs. Kinnebrew has transformed this into a real home for these 50 or more boys.

Not only does she put mustard plasters on their sick chests and buttons on their clothes when needs be, but there is that gentle, unconscious restraint and sweet influence, the lack of which has at times occasioned criticism of chapter-house life.

All hail to the chapter-house-mothers' regime!

Mrs. Davidson Honors Mrs. McKleroy.

Mrs. H. G. Davidson entertained at the Carlton, honoring Mrs. L. W. McKleroy, of New York city, who is Mrs. Davidson's guest for several days, at a lovely informal luncheon on Monday.

'Air Piracy' Suit To Be Made Test In Broadcasting

Chicago, February 1.—Government and defense lawyers in the Zenith Radio corporation "air piracy" suit have agreed to make the trial a test case of the United States department of commerce's power to regulate broadcasting.

Charges that Eugene F. MacDonald, president of the company, violated his license to broadcast programs were brought by the district attorney's office here and when arraigned Monday, MacDonald pleaded not guilty. The trial was set for February 15.

Meanwhile, under an agreement between Irving Herriott, of the defense, and Assistant District Attorney John E. Byrne, both sides are to file briefs outlining their arguments.

Herriott said he would base his argument on the contention that the law governing radio broadcasting was not workable, now that radio had grown to such huge proportions. He also will charge that undue influence was brought upon the department of commerce to license the Zenith station, WJAZ, to broadcast only two days a week.

MacDonald hopes legislation placing radio under control of a "communications commission" will grow out of the trial.

COURT OVERRULES DOHENY'S APPEAL IN OIL LEASE SUIT

San Francisco, February 1.—(AP)—Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, today lost his fight in the United States circuit court of appeals to prevent cancellation of the Doheny leases in the naval oil reserves in California.

A petition seeking reversal of the court's recent decision in the case was overruled. Counsel for Doheny was given a stay of execution to enable him to prepare an appeal to the United States supreme court.

The circuit court decision stripped the oil magnate of all his rights to naval oil lands in California under the leases and also cancelled some $11,000,000 in allowances granted by the trial court for work done at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and in the California fields under the leases.

PRICE OF GASOLINE ADVANCED HALF CENT

New York, February 2.—(AP)—The pendulum of gasoline prices, which swung downward from August to November last year, and then started upward again, began to climb tigher today when the Sinclair Refining company announced an increase of one-half cent a gallon in railroad tank car lots at New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic coast terminals. The new tank car price is 12 cents a gallon.

The announcement came within a few hours of an advance of 15 cents a barrel in mid-continent crude by the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, in which several other companies joined later in the day.

The American Petroleum institute reported a decrease of 16,200 barrels in the daily average of gross crude oil production in the week ended January 16, bringing the total to 1,947,600 barrels, the lowest since last April. With one exception, production has shown a decrease for 19 weeks.

Consumption of crude is being maintained at a high rate, and it is estimated that 150,000 barrels a day are being withdrawn from storage in the mid-continent field.

Rail Brotherhoods File Applications For Big Wage Hike

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—Application for wage increases, which spokesman of the railway managements said would exceed, in some cases, 1920 peak rates, was filed with the railroads today by the trains service brotherhoods.

Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern said that their employees, in filing the application, had announced that the same demands were being made today upon all roads of the country.

Meanwhile, the United States railroad labor board had before it approximately 70 submissions for changes in rates or rules. Although the train service brotherhoods and the firemen were involved in a few of these, most came from smaller organizations.

The train and engine brotherhoods conducted the conferences with railroad executives which resulted in proposals for supplanting the board, which are said to be supported by most of the roads and by 20 employees' organizations.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Joicey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair, and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—(adv.)

Straws Popular In Milady's Hat Modes This Year

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—A tendency toward straw hats, more fancifully trimmed than severe felt cloche of recent popularity is announced by leaders of the allied millinery industries of Chicago in their national style show opening today.

All the hats are built for bobbed hair. Though both large picture hats and small turbans will be worn, they are all made to fit the small bobbed head.

One of the displays shows the evolution of the present day from the chaplet of leaves woven by Eve in the garden of Eden, featuring particularly the creations of 1836, 1866, 1856 and then 1926.

"While the felt hat continues to be the popular item of the moment, as the season advances the tendency will be toward hats of silk and belting ribbon, and body straws. The tendency for the coming season is for more trimming on hats."

The crayon colorings are most prominent, such as Marie Antoinette—a soft rose; Maintenon—a soft salmon rose; chevreuse—ashes of roses; golden wheat, oak buff; Italian blue; Chantilly green; phantom red; watermelon.

Rhinestone or mother of pearl ornaments, or better yet, a pair of long crystal pins, are the correct trims.

Among spring straws, body hats have almost completely superceded those sewed of narrow braids. Bankoks, soft perle, fancy hemps and pastel colored leghorns will be much in vogue.

Faces pictured on the front of the hat with a feather forming the hair, are an innovation with which a Chicago milliner is experimenting.

The designers have a word of cheer to those who are fearful that the bob may become passe.

"Milliners are figuring on a continuation of the bobbed mode, for the present at least," says Harlin Ware, director of the show. "If women are beginning to let their hair grow, it is estimated that at the normal rate, 3 inches a year, it will take long hair two years to come back. The wigs being worn are for evening wear and do not require a hat."

The Kind that Does not Depress the Heart

The GILDED ROSE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY.

Rosilyn Ridgeway learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

Landis Ridgeway, her husband, is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother. Rosilyn, loving her husband, knows he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying Stevie Van Vorst, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway.

Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby Rosilyn and Briscoe will see a great deal of each other, and Lydia will have a chance to exert her wiles upon Landis. The plan works, and Landis, finding himself often alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more.

Van Vorst, however, hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta Fernandez, a dancer and sweetheart of Briscoe's, in connection with a scheme. These two come to New York, where Marietta begins to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

In the country at the Ridgeway place, Rosilyn, in a fever of jealousy and anxiety over the protracted disappearance of her husband seeks the solace of the country-side. After an exciting adventure she is rescued by Briscoe, who tells a "fishy" story to account for his proximity to the scene. Landis disapproves heartily of the whole affair but conscious-stricken at his neglect of Rosilyn invites her to attend a stage garden party with him. She joyfully accepts.

CHAPTER LVI.

Things Clear Up.

"Landis"—the hand that held the teacup trembled—. . . "would you think me awfully silly if I asked you to tell what it is that makes men follow after a woman?"

The man beside her gave his careless laugh.

"Want to be a siren, do you, Rosilyn? Are you bent on fascinating Briscoe? Ore are you merely bored with your humdrum husband, and want a little fling?"

"Don't tease me, Landis. I'm in earnest. If you only knew how utterly ignorant I feel—"

"You're getting along splendidly—far better than I even imagined—and you never were a stupid girl, Rosilyn. You've been surprisingly adaptable, and every day will make things easier—socially."

"Now about the 'charm' question," he went on, smilingly, "just be your simple self. That's unusual enough to be interesting these days. D'you know, Rosilyn, you've got a 'wild flower' sort of attraction that's utterly different from the jaded, blase, sophisticated girls one meets everywhere?"

"But—"she hesitated, anxious to make herself clear, and to be fully enlightened—"these girls are popular, aren't they? Men do court them and run after them."

He laughed at that. It was a quizzical laugh, and he regarded his young wife rather keenly.

Had she heard about Lydia, and wanted to 'cut her out?' Was that the raison d'etre of this probing?

"You're doing rather well, for a novice. Briscoe seems almost too 'epris.' And he rather fancies himself as a connoisseur."

"I like him—and I don't like him," said the girl.

"Go easy with him, Rosilyn."

She raised her eyes to the fine, dark orbs that were watching her intently.

"Anything you say Landis. Only—you know I've been a little bit lonely—I often wanted to explain about that night in town—when he and I missed you and you waited at Claridge's."

"Oh, forget it," came the hurried comment.

But Rosilyn persisted.

"We saw you at that cabaret performance. You were dancing. I wanted—awfully—to hurry downstairs and join you—but Mr. Briscoe showed me that it wasn't just the correct thing—"

"The dickens he did!" Landis' amazement was genuine. "But I hadn't an idea you were in the place!"

"I thought you saw me!" Rosilyn's sensitive heart fluttered with a new hope. It was the Harbrook woman who had dragged him off so quickly!

"Thought I saw you?" The young man repeated the query incredulously. "What kind of a creature do you take me for Rosilyn, if you imagine that I am capable of doing such an extraordinary thing? I most certainly did not see you, and I'm surprised that you and Briscoe did not come and join us. Mr. Brisco was the host. Of what was he thinking?"

The girl hesitated, then she forced herself to say:

"Our marriage isn't the or linary one. You remember—our agreement? Then why should I interfere with your enjoyment?"

There was a silence. The music of the band came fitfully and a warm little wind blew through the foliage of the trees.

Then Landis, in rather a hoarse voice, said:

"Remember, Rosilyn, that I am always glad to have you with me. And I want to apologize for many things, if you'll be generous enough and sweet enough to allow me? I know I'm not nearly good enough for you."

Her breath caught in her throat. Was she asleep and dreaming? Could these wonderful words really have come from the man she so adored? Was it really possible he had some genuine feeling for her?

"Shall we walk on for a bit?" She rose from the grass, brushing her bunchy skirts as though her appearance were of more importance than her husband's last remarks, although her heart was hammering in her bosom. "We've both finished tea, haven't we?"

"Yes, let us move on." He thought her abrupt change of subject was a running away from any intimacy between them, and that indeed she had no personal sentiment for him. . . .

But as they walked through the crowded gardens the girl kept close beside him, and once—with a confiding little gesture—she placed her hand for a moment or two upon his arm.

"Enjoying yourself, Rosilyn?" They had paused in front of a gaily-decorated booth where certain articles were being "auctioned off," and he plunged into the little crowd his wife beside him. "See, I'm going to buy something for you, as a little souvenir of a delightful afternoon. It's to be the forerunner I hope, of lots of other jolly times—together." He laid a stress on the last word.

"Oh! How amusing!" Rosilyn clapped her two hands together, like a delighted child when Landis secured an absurd French doll. "Look at the curly red wig! Look at the long, slanty eyes! They're as old as Egypt, Landis and as wise!"

After that they "did" the sideshows, and were suitably fleeced. Then they had their pictures taken "while you wait" and then the "cocoanut-shies" did a brisk business with them.

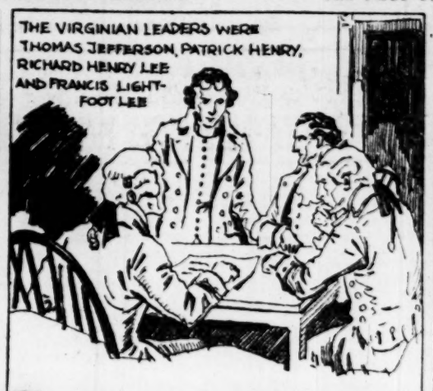
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The First Continental Congress.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE VIRGINIA HOUSE OF BURGESSES, AROUSED BY THE PLIGHT OF THE BOSTON PEOPLE, ORDERED THE DAY ON WHICH THE "INTOLERABLE ACTS" WERE TO GO INTO EFFECT, TO BE DEVOTED TO PRAYERS FOR THE NATION. FEARING THAT THE ASSEMBLY MIGHT PASS SEDITIOUS RESOLUTIONS, GOVERNOR DUNMORE DISMISSED THAT BODY.

©1926, BY THE McCLURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE.



NOT TO BE BALKED, THE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE ADJOURNED, BUT MET AT THE OLD RALEIGH TAVERN IN WILLIAMSBURG WHERE THEY PROPOSED THAT A CONGRESS OF DELEGATES FROM ALL THE COLONIES SHOULD MEET EVERY YEAR.

IN THE FALL OF 1774, THE FIRST CONTINENTAL CONGRESS MET AT CARPENTERS' HALL, PHILADELPHIA. FIFTY-FIVE DELEGATES GATHERED, REPRESENTING ALL THE COLONIES WITH THE EXCEPTION OF GEORGIA WHERE TORIES SUCCEEDED IN PREVENTING THE SENDING OF DELEGATES.

AMONG THE DELEGATES WERE A NUMBER OF BRILLIANT MEN WHO WERE LEADERS OF THE CAUSE OF AMERICA — PATRICK HENRY OF VIRGINIA, JOHN AND SAMUEL ADAMS OF MASSACHUSETTS, SHERMAN OF CONNECTICUT, HOPKINS OF RHODE ISLAND, DICKINSON OF PENNSYLVANIA AND RUTLEDGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

THIS FIRST CONTINENTAL CONGRESS ACCOMPLISHED THREE IMPORTANT THINGS.—

1. IT PASSED THE "DECLARATION OF RIGHTS," SETTING FORTH THE GRIEVANCES OF THE COLONIES AND DECLARING THAT THE AMERICANS WOULD NEVER SUBMIT TO THE "INTOLERABLE ACTS."
2. IT FORMED THE "AMERICAN ASSOCIATION" TO UNITE ALL THE COLONIES IN AN ABSOLUTE BOYCOTT OF ENGLISH TRADE.
3. IT PROPOSED A MEETING OF THE CONGRESS FOR THE FOLLOWING YEAR, IF BY THAT TIME PARLIAMENT HAD NOT REPEALED THE "INTOLERABLE ACTS."

TOMORROW—MASSACHUSETTS COMMITTEE OF SAFETY.

Uncle Ray Says

In the early part of her history, Rome had a rival to think about. The rival was Carthage, which lay near the site of the modern city of Tunis.

Carthage had strong walls, and contained many beautiful buildings. The chief interest of the people was in trade. Ships of Carthage traveled far and wide over the sea.

The power of Rome lay more in her armies than in her navy. On the sea, the Romans were weak for a long time—but Carthage had a strong navy. Time and again the Romans were beaten in sea battles. Then they built better ships, and Carthage was beaten in a few battles.

The fights at sea did not settle the fortunes of the rivals, however. The most important battles were to be fought on land. In the days that Rome was still a republic, the general Hannibal came upon the scene. He was a man of daring thoughts and clever plans. In his heart lay one great hatred, and that hatred was for Rome.

"If I can march into Italy," thought Hannibal, "I can bring Rome to her knees."

Under Hannibal was an army and at its head the general marched from Spain through southern France. With the troops were many war elephants. The Alps barred the way of the army from Carthage, but believing in their leader the soldiers marched on. Across the rugged slopes, along narrow passes—slipping and falling, but struggling still—they forced their way into Italy. Many a soldier died on the way, but 34,000 entered Italy.

The army with Hannibal was not large even for those days; but the men were hardened and they knew that they could not return across the Alps. They must either do or die. Besides that, they had a leader whose skill in warfare perhaps cannot be matched in all history. He was at this time only 30 years old.

Roman armies marched to meet Hannibal. One after another they were beaten. Hannibal marched southward. Again and again, there were battles. Again and again, the side of Carthage won.

Hannibal wanted to attack Rome, but that city had strong walls. The army of Carthage had few, if any, machines for the siege. It was hard to obtain such machines in an enemy country. Besides, the army was small to attack such a stronghold.

Hannibal tried to persuade some of the people of Italy to revolt and join forces with him. This effort met little success. If Roman slaves had joined Hannibal in large numbers, Rome might have been taken.

As things turned out, Hannibal did not dare to attack Rome. Year after year he kept his army free from capture, winning in the field of battle but failing in his main object. At length he reached the south of Italy, and there put his soldiers on board ships. The army was then taken to Carthage.

In a later battle in northern Africa, Hannibal was badly beaten by a Roman army led by the general Scipio. He escaped capture, and fled to the east where he spent the rest of his years trying to stir up revolts against Rome. He died at the age of 64.

LATVIAN LOAN IN U. S. IS FLOATED BY NEW YORK MEN

BY DONALD DAY.

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Riga, February 1.—Negotiations regarding the floating of a $10,000,000 Latvian loan in America, which were begun two years ago, have been concluded, according to Jack A. Mallar, a representative of the New York financial group which proposes to market Latvian bonds through the Guaranty Trust company and Kuhn and Loeb.

Confirming Mr. Mallar's statement, Finance Minister Blumberg states the loan is guaranteed by Latvian customs duties, which at present amount to $9,000,000 a year.

The terms offered to the finance minister by the New York group are that the bonds will be sold to the public at 95, will bear 7 1-2 per cent and mature in 25 years. The acceptance of the loan by America, Mr. Mallar reports, hinges on the city of Riga settling its $5,000,000 debt to Lazard Brothers and also recognizing at full value the bonds of the Wolmar railroad, which is a short line Latvia built before the war, with English capital of $1,000,000.

BREAKS DOWN DOOR TO SEE HIS WIFE; ARREST FOLLOWS

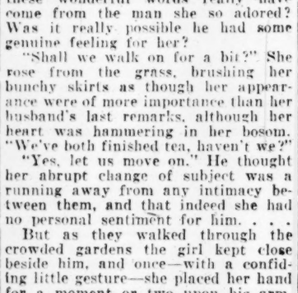
Detroit, Mich., February 1.—(AP)—After facing a charge of disturbing the peace because he broke in a door to see his second wife, C. W. Rooks was recommended today for a warrant charging him with bigamy.

Rooks, under the name of Brooks, married Mrs. Henrietta Thomas, widow, here. Later, she said, Brooks told her he had a wife in Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Thomas inquired in Atlanta and found that Mrs. C. W. Rooks was the wife of the man she knew as C. W. Brooks, and she left him.

Last night Rooks insisted on seeing his wife at the home of a friend and when she slammed the door in his face he broke it down. He then was arrested.

Child-birth



THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy. How important it is that the Mother-to-be should pass this period with calm nerves. The sweetest story ever told is the soul-whispering of mother to her unborn child. Mother love and expectancy—be prepared to make this dream a reality.

"Everyone was surprised how well I got along." Writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth. Plain oils only penetrate the skin. Mother's Friend penetrates deeper and soothes the broad muscles of the abdomen, back and hips; making them soft and pliable—thus really aiding Nature to do her part.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. Dec	17.58	17.60	17.59	17.56	17.60

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Early declines in the cotton market today were followed by recoveries, May selling up from 19.57 to 19.64 and closing at 19.63, compared with 19.64 at the close Saturday. The general market closed steady, net 1 point higher to 3 points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 3 points, most months being lower in sympathy with relatively easy Liverpool cables. A little selling also may have developed on rather disappointing reports from the domestic goods trade, and the market showed net losses of about 6 to 8 points on old crop positions and of 3 or 4 points on the new crop during the forenoon. Offerings were light, however, and the market steadied up later on covering by old crop shorts and a little trade or investment buying in the new crop positions. March rallied from 20.14 to close at 20.20, while October sold up from 18.17 to 18.24 and closed at 18.17.

The reports of lower list prices for cotton sheetings in the local goods market was emphasized as a disappointing development in that quarter, but advices from Manchester continued encouraging. The official cable said yarns were firmer and cloths in good demand in the English market. Private advices carried similar reports.

Little or nothing was heard from the southern spot markets, and recent talk of an easier basis found no confirmation in today's trading as very few selling orders appeared to be reaching here from the belt.

The first trading in contracts for delivery in January, 1927, was reported at discounts of from 15 to 20 points as compared with December. Trade interests were credited with buying the later deliveries.

Exports today, 100,629 bales, making 5,453,489 so far this season; port receipts, 24,422; United States port stocks, 1,514,092, against 1,387,973 last season.

MARKET DULL AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, February 1.—(AP)—The cotton market was a dull affair today, the extreme spread of fluctuations being under 18 points. The trend, if it can be so termed, with such limited price movement, was downward, but after prices had declined 5 to 9 points from Saturday's closing levels there was a sufficient rally during the afternoon to bring about the recovery of practically all the lows. The close was steady, showing a net loss for the day of 1 to 3 points.

There was an absence of developments during the day of a character to influence the market. About the only developments were the larger exports, 100,629 bales, the effect of which was lost because last year's exports for the corresponding day were even larger, 151,283, and the plus correction of 21,646 bales in the Liverpool stock of American cotton.

At the start as Liverpool was lower than due prices opened slightly lower first trades showing losses of 1 to 3 point. Prices rallied some during the call, March trading up to 19.62, May to 19.06, and October to 17.60, or 1 to 2 points above Saturday's close. These prices remained the highs of the day. The market thereafter gradually eased off despite occasional small rallies until March traded down to 19.53, May to 18.99, and October to 17.54, or 6 to 9 points under the early highs.

From these low levels the market rallied in the final trading, recovering nearly all of the small loss, closing near the top.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, February 1.—(AP)—Spot cotton closed steady at unchanged quotations. Sales 2,808.. Low middling 17.12; middling 20.12; good middling 21.37. Receipts 1,354; stock, 477,688.

COTTON EXPORTS DURING JANUARY SHOW BIG SLUMP

New Orleans, February 1—(AP)—Secretary H. G. Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton exchange, says the United States cotton exports to foreign countries, exclusive of Canada, totalled 737,964 bales during January, 1926, against 1,053,374 bales in 1925.

Great Britain received 230,889 bales, against 413,906 a year ago; France 88,286, against 108,547; Germany 119,292, against 223,538, and the rest of Europe 155,594, against 176,075.

High Lights in the Cotton Market

BY THEO. H. PRICE
Editor of Commerce and Finance

The prevailing disposition is to assume that dull markets will continue to be dull and that active markets will continue to be active. But history does not warrant this assumption, and for the reassurance of those who are discouraged by the present inactivity, it is pointed out that it will probably be succeeded by activity just as a storm generally follows a calm.

The cotton market last week changed but little, because there was but little reason for change. But its continued placidity should not be taken for granted. There are, in fact, one or two features already visible that foreshadow some readjustment in the price level.

The export movement has been dwindling of late and the total shipped abroad is now slightly under the figures for the corresponding date last year. The reason is to be found in the disparity between the price of cotton in the American markets and its value in Europe. Futures in Liverpool are very much below the equivalent of the New York price, and it is even rumored that some cotton is being shipped back to the United States from one or two continental ports. These rumors seem to have some basis of truth, but they cannot be circumstantially verified.

Hard to Find Reason.

The reason for a situation so anomalous is difficult to find, but it is possible that it may be due to the increased production of cotton outside of the United States and particularly within the British Empire, where the various provincial governments have been working to encourage the production of cotton so that the English textile industry might be independent of the American supply.

As against the somewhat bearish implication of the decreased export movement and the relatively low price at which cotton is ruling abroad, there is to be put the continued talk of a reduction in the acreage that will be planted to cotton in the United States for the season of 1926-27. It is impossible to say what the percentage of reduction will be, but that the area will be smaller than last year's record figures is generally admitted, and as the outlook for the American crop will soon become a major issue, it will be well not to ignore the curtailment that seems to be so definitely indicated.

In the dry goods market trade has been rather quieter. January is always a comparatively dull month, and it may be that the complaints heard simply reflect conditions that are normal and seasonal.

But in so far as the speculative markets are concerned, there is less enthusiasm than there was two months ago, and those who offer cautionary advice are now listened to more patiently than they were.

Taken altogether, the market seems to be drifting upon an even keel, but there are some indications of an early change and, with the prevailing dullness, it is possible that a decline may occur before we reach a basis that will be a secure foundation for the advance that is almost certain to follow if the farmers carry out their declared intention to radically reduce the area to be planted to next season's crop.

News, Views And Reviews

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, February 1.—Specialties also were in good demand, with further advances made in California Packing, Postum Cereal and Gold Dust. The railroad group was quite mixed in its movements, Wabash leading the advance, while there was a falling off in the price of C. & O. Tightening of money to 5½ per cent, due to the calling of loans to strengthen the position of the clearing house banks, did not have much of an effect on the market, and bullish demonstrations went ahead in various sections around noon. There was a good deal of activity, though the advance was negligible in answer to the advance in Mid-Continent Crude Oil and further rumors of mergers of various groups of oil companies.

JNO. F. CLARK & CO.

New York, February 1.—Although the volume of business was restricted by wire trouble, due to last night's storm, the market opened strong and displayed a great deal of strength during the morning. However, due to the unexpected advance in call money to 5½ per cent, due to February interest and dividend requirements resulting in liquidation, profit taking and professional selling, the market lost all of its early gain and the tone at the close was weak. In many quarters it is believed that the oils and rails are to be strongly featured in the market's next bullish demonstration.

PYNCHON & CO.

New York, February 1.—The general market acted very well during the forenoon with special strength in the motors. Money rates in the late afternoon advanced to 5½ per cent, causing rather sharp reaction. The close was very irregular.

New York, February 1.—After a fairly strong day, the market turned distinctly weak in the last hour. The selling was profit taking and short selling as a result of a run-up in call money to 5½ per cent due to calling of loans for month-end requirements and as the result of nervousness over the coming publication of the broker's loans totals. In addition rather exaggerated reports of the falling off in new steel business brought selling into the steel stocks, which with the rubbers were the weakest in the list. A few stocks continued to advance despite this selling. The market this week is quite likely to be irregular. We believe a number of issues can be bought on the reaction but we would not buy until the market has gone dull on weakness.

Cotton Letters.

PYNCHON & CO.

New York, February 1.—The market ruled quiet and steady. Opened a little lower due to easier cables but after first hour rallied to about Saturday's close. Some scattered covering in March. Contracts supplied by spot houses against purchases of May. Buying of October and selling December of fair volume represented transferring of hedges. Initial trading in the new January option yesterday. Speculative interests best seller while spot people were buying. Export of over 100,000 bales were largely the filling of end month commitments. Including yesterday's figures exports were still behind those of last year. The market at close continued steady with price fixing by trade in March and May.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, February 1.—There is no evidence of weakness in the market, although the news is inclined to be a trifle pessimistic. March and May continue to hold their premiums, indicating that there must be a short interest in these months, and that the trade have yet a large quantity of contracts to buy, based on these months. It seems that the new crop months are attracting investment buying. The volume of business that was anticipated is not fully materializing.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, February 1.—Another day of remarkable steadiness has been witnessed, during which there was further liquidation of cotton for March delivery. Despite this quotations suffered only a few points' loss temporarily and the market closed practically unchanged from Saturday.

H. & B. BEER.

New Orleans, La., February 1.—As yet the cotton market shows no decided tendency, for while values ruled lower in early session, due to easier cables than due, but support is encountered on dips, serving to keep the market comparatively steady. Weekly textile trade reviews were somewhat less favorable, sales at Fall River the past week 150,000 pieces vs. 200,000 in previous week and as yet, no general demand has developed in New York for cotton goods.

FENNER & BEANE.

New Orleans, La., February 1.—Trading was light for lack of news or fresh developments. Steadiness of the market in the face of much bearish talk was its chief feature. Dry goods news was less favorable as domestic buyers are not placing much future business due to belief that prices will be reduced sooner or later. Something new is needed to stimulate interest in the market.

JNO. F. CLARK & CO.

New York, February 1.—Domestic trade advices were better. Reports from the southern spot markets indicated that demand for the actual cotton was quiet. The basis however, is holding steady. Spot interests are generally of the opinion that there will not be any change of importance in the spot situation in the immediate future.

New York, February 1.—Sentiment seems to be pretty well divided between two ideas and with one offsetting the other, the market is reflecting the absence of spot pressure on the one hand with the apparent ability of spot buyers to secure their immediate needs at present prices on the other. There was a decline early today on relatively easy cables and near month liquidation but after showing net losses of 3 to 8 points the market steadied on covering by near month reports with a little trade or investment buying of later deliveries. We saw nothing of particular significance either in the trading or in the action of prices.

Grain Letters.

JNO. F. CLARK & CO.

Chicago, February 1.—WHEAT: Decreasing supplies provided periods of strength in wheat today, not a new demand. The promise of a better foreign demand, which was indicated last week, was not fulfilled, seaboard and Winnipeg reporting export trade as slow as for some time past. Importers have been apathetic for so long a time as to create the belief that the price is bringing about economy in European countries. Not only was there no export business reported, but some exporters at the seaboard claims that Manitobas are offered for resale at 4 to 6 cents under the present market. Domestic flour trade continues slow, local mills in the southwest claiming business is as poor as at any time in the past.

FENNER & BEANE.

Chicago, February 1.—News continued moderately bullish, including Winnipeg reports of excellent foreign demand via Vancouver. Domestic inquiry continued keen and premiums were fully maintained. The visible decreased 844,000 bushels, which was disappointing, in view of the early estimates greatly in excess of this figure. Liverpool closed ½ to 1d higher. We see no change in underlying news or conditions, and while liquidation has brought about a natural reaction, we look for the cash situation to further strengthen, attracting new buying power to futures.

Cottonseed Oil.

New York, February 1.—The cottonseed oil market was irregular today with spot prices steady, while futures were easier under liquidation, due to the weakness in lard and grain. Closing prices were 5 to 13 points net lower. Prime crude, 9.50@9.75; prime summer yellow spot, 11.00; March closed 10.94; May, 11.10; July, 11.25; September, 11.42.

New Orleans, February 1.—The market for cottonseed oil futures ruled steady and somewhat higher today notwithstanding an easier market for lard. Although the trade demand seemed less urgent there was a good inquiry for contracts in anticipation of a large consumption of oil. Prime summer yellow oil closed unchanged at 10.55, and prime crude was also unchanged at 9¼ to 9½ cents. Futures closed steady, February, 10.40; March, 10.60; May, 10.60; July, 10.72, and September, 10.20.

Provisions.

Chicago, February 1.—Lard, $15.00; ribs $16.37; bellies $16.87.

CLOSE IS WEAK ON CURB MARKET

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Stock prices turned reactionary in today's curb market after an opening display of strength. Oils apparently had discounted the advance of 25 cents a barrel in mid-continent crude prices as most of the active issues lost ground on the day. Vacuum and Standard Oil of California (new) each losing over a point. There were a few exceptions, Reiter Foster jumping nearly 5 points to a new 1926 high at 23 3-4, and Lago issues advancing fractionally on a heavy turnover with buying influenced by reports of successful drilling operations.

Food shares failed to make much response to reports of impending mergers, most of the active issues showing only fractional changes. Special buying took place, however, in several specialties, new peak prices being attained by Vick's Chemical, American Cynamid B., Congress Cigar, Utah Apex Mining, Amalgamated Leather, and a few others. Foundation Company Foreign, Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Land Company of Florida and Sears-Roebuck were heavy.

Net declines of 1 to 2 1-2 points were recorded by a number of public utilities, including American Light and Traction, Electric Bond and Share, Southeastern Power and Light preferred (new), United Gas Improvement and United Light and Power.

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Higher call money rates apparently inspired sufficient selling in today's stock market to check the rising tide of prices. Closing quotations disclosed considerable irregularity, both the rails and industrial averages losing ground although several specialties were marked up 1 to nearly 12 points. The reduction in the volume trading was attributed in some quarters to the disposition on the part of many large traders to await the publication of the figures on brokers' loans before extending their commitments.

Two of the most interesting developments of the day were the approach of sterling exchange to within 1-16 of 1 cent of gold parity. The highest rate since the early days of the war, and the advance of 25 cents a barrel in midcontinent crude prices, but neither exerted any influence on stock prices. As a matter of fact, most of the oil shares lost ground, indicating that the advance had been widely discounted. Foreign bonds, however, were firm, new high records being established by several issues, including United Kingdom 5 1-2s.

Most of the standard industrials lost ground. United States Steel common showed a net loss of 1 5-8 at 132 1-4. Baldwin dropped nearly a point to 126, and American Can closed 1-2 lower at 287 1-2 after selling as high as 291. Net losses of a point or more also were recorded by such representative rails as New York Central, Rock Island, Reading, and Union Pacific, and Chesapeake and Ohio dropped over 3 points to 118 3-4.

Food specialties again attracted widespread speculative attention because of the publicity given to reports to huge combines in that field. South Porto Rican sugar soared over 12 points to a record high at 146, closing within a point of the top. Great Western sugar closed 3 3-4 higher at 102 1-4, and net gains of a point or more were recorded by Postum Cereal, California Packing, Ward Baking "B" and White Rock.

Motors enjoyed a temporary outburst of strength on buying influenced by reports that January car sales had exceeded expectations. General Motors was run up to 129 5-8, the highest price reached this year, and then sagged to 127 7-8, where it was up 1 5-8 on the day. Hudson closed fractionally lower at 111 after having touched 113 3-4. Nash Motors was run up from 534 to 541 1-2 on relatively few sales.

Other specialties for which there was a good demand included Brooklyn Edison, DuPont, Famous Players, American Brake Shoe and Foundry, Continental Can, Gold Dust, People's Gas and Twin City Rapid Transit. Otto Eisenlohr, which was listed last week, was traded in for the first time and an orderly market developed between 19 5-8 and 20 1-2.

Passing of the Pacific Mills dividend for the first time since 1883 probably inspired selling of American Woolen, which closed 1 5-8 lower at 38 1-2. American Smelting and Refining, Beechnut Packing, Central Leather, Fox Film A., National Biscuit, Remington Typewriter and Woolworth also showed pronounced weakness.

Commodity markets were reactionary. Active wheat futures showed moderate recessions after an early display of strength. Cotton showed little change in quiet trading. Raw sugar futures were 1 to 5 points net lower, and coffee futures showed declines of 5 to 24 points.

Call money renewed at 4 1-2 per cent, advanced to 5 and thence to 5 1-2, closing at the top. The rise was generally attributed to the heavy calling of loans by banks, estimated as high as $25,000,000, in connection with first of the month requirements.

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Tighter money conditions imposed some restraint on bond trading today but failed to hamper United States or foreign government obligations, the strength of which gave the market a firmer appearance. Profit-taking succeeded the recent speculative operations in traction and oil company liens but fresh buying developed for other public utilities, industrials and rails.

Virtually all of the U. S. government bonds duplicated or eclipsed their previous high records for 1926. Buying of these issues reflected the growing tendency of institutions to build up their holdings of high grade securities. Renewed interest also was shown in foreign obligations, several of which sold at new peak prices. Coincident with sterling's approach to par, both the United Kingdom 5 1-2 per cent issues rose to their highest levels of the year, as did German 7s and Czecho-Slovakian 7 1-2s.

Realizing sales halted the advance in local traction liens, which was the feature of last week's trading. Most of these gains were materially reduced today and losses of 1 to 2 points also were recorded by Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad 5s. Seaboard adjustment 5s, Sinclair Oil 6s and New York, West Chester & Boston 4 1-2s.

As buying interest in recent favorites waned, the attention of investors was turned to issues which had been neglected. Southern Railway 6 1-2s, New Haven convertible 6s and Erie general 4s were active in the rail group and other bonds which, joined in the upward movement included New England Telephone 5s, Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 5s, Virginia-Carolina issues, Eastern Cuba Sugar 7 1-2s, South Porto Rico Sugar 7s, Dold Packing 6s and Dominion Iron & Steel 5s.

The ease with which the investment market absorbed the heaviest volume of January financing in history has led bankers to prepare for several other large flotations. New York city is expected to invite bids soon on a $75,000,000 bond issue to retire corporate stock, but bankers so far have not been advised of the details. A $15,000,000 loan for a German steel company also is understood to be under negotiations. Public offering will be made tomorrow of $7,800,000 at 4 1-2 per cent equipment notes for the St. Louis-San Francisco railway at prices to yield from 4 1-2 to 4 3-4 per cent. Later in the week $7,500,000 25-year 6 per cent debentures of the Standard Gas & Electric company will be placed on the market.

Week in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

Market Likely to Continue Professional Until Statement on Bank Loans—Sterling Hits New High Level Since 1914.

New York, February 1.—Motor shares were manipulated today under the leadership of General Motors to hold the market. Directors of General Motors meet Februarry 11 to declare quarterly dividends, and rumors are being widely circulated that something more than the quarterly $1.50 will be declared. Activity in motor shares spread to a few specialties. But the market as a whole was quiet, even the oils failing to reflect the news that an advance of 25 cents a barrel had been made in mid-continent crude. The feeling here is that the stock market will continue a narrow professional affair until the federal reserve board publishes its new figures around the end of this week on bank loans secured by stock exchange collateral.

The best-informed oil men here do not welcome the advance in mid-continent crude oil prices. Inasmuch as small refiners have recently been paying a premium of from 10 to 15 cents a barrel for mid-continent crude and becoming increasingly nervous over the decline in crude production, big oil men here feel that probably the price increase announced today was unavoidable. However, it is realized that wild cat drilling of new wells will be encouraged by the price advance. In this connection, it is being pointed out that the oil industry is just beginning to recover from over production: that a cut of 25 cents a barrel would make the speculative oil drillers in the west, now setting around hot stoves waiting for spring weather to come, declare they would not spend another nickel drilling new wells, whereas the advance of 25 cents will start new drilling talk. Another advance of 25 cents, big oil men here are saying, would make it easy for speculative drillers to get the $50,000 or $75,000 necessary to pay the initial cost of drilling a new well.

Sterling at High Level.

Sterling advanced today to the highest level since 1914, and continued strong. England's improved gold position is partly responsible for the advance in sterling. Encouraging reports from England's best bankers regarding the improved general trade situation and outlook there is also a factor in the sterling market. However, our best bankers here believe that the high prices being received by England for its exports of rubber to all parts of the world, with most of the rubber coming here, is the most important factor in the advance in sterling. Our rubber buyers are bidding against each other to get sterling to pay for rubber purchases.

Clearing house banks in this district, as a result of month-end requirements, reported a week-end loss of $20,841,000 in surplus, reducing that item to $5,280,000. Loans were called today to make good this shrinkage in surplus. Call money renewed at 4 1-2, and with loans being called quickly, advanced to 5 and then to 5 1-2. Easier call money is expected before the end of this week. There was no change today in time money rates, which continued to reflect abundance of time money.

Unfavorable conditions existing in the textile industry in the New England states for the past two years was reflected in the passing today of the Pacific Mill's 75-cent quarterly dividend. Last year the annual dividend was cut from 6 to 3. Today was the first time since 1883 that the Pacific Mill's directors failed to declare a cash dividend. For 1925, the company reported a net loss of $205,000. The feeling here is that the New England textile mills have seen the worst of the depression caused by high wages, high cotton and competition with artificial silk.

In discussing the textile industry, a distinction must be made between New England and southern mills. The southern mills have gone through the depression in the textile industry better than the New England mills, because the southern mills are nearer to raw cotton, because they have more favorable labor conditions, and because they have modern machinery.

Wall street bankers are whispering among themselves that the forthcoming statement on loans secured by a stock exchange collateral will be disappointing—to the bears in the stock market. Stock market bears have been selling stocks short on the belief that the figures would be at or near the new high record for all time, that is, around $2,800,000,000 of last November. The talk now is that the figures will be under $2,000,000,000.

DIXIE HAMILTON IS BRIGHT STAR IN FORSYTH SHOW

Miss Hamilton sings only fairly well, she doesn't try to dance and her act is not bolstered by dramatic frills, but the sheer personality of the girl brought forth one of the greatest ovations accorded an entertainer in Atlanta in many, many months. She brought the audience to its feet at the end of every number and was forced to stand on the stage at the end of her fourth encore for some time before the applause would subside.

Whether you have seen "The Bat" or not, you will enjoy Marietta Craig and her supporting cast in "Batty." The comedy complex which made Miss Craig bring laughter from tears in "The Bat" for so many years enables her to play the same role on the vaudeville stage with great success.

Tom and Dolly Ward, in "Comedy Songs and Sayings," drew a fair share of applause; but their act was not what might be termed a howling success. Their duet work was the bright spot in the number.

"Red and Blue," a burlesque act in which Sim Collins and Lew Hart endeavor to bring amusement by slapstick methods, is not without merit in spots, but to be charitable, the spots weren't very numerous.

The Wilson Trio in the final episode present several dance numbers of worth, though the efforts of the two feminine members are entirely eclipsed by acrobatic dances of their male companion.

A Pathe Review and Pathe News complete the program.

DICK HAWKINS.

KATHLEEN DEXTER AND JULIAN HALL PLEASE AUDIENCE

Kathleen Dexter, a diminutive little red-headed bit of humanity, and her partner, Julian Hall, in a breezy little comedy episode won high favor at Loew's Grand on the new bill of vaudeville which opened Monday, sharing honors with Lolo Brava, famous Spanish dancer, headliner. Miss Dexter is an impish, impertinent "brat of a girl," but she kept the crowds laughing heartily Monday night. Julian Hall gives an amusing impersonation of Charlie Chaplin and he and Miss Dexter close their turn with some jazzy music on the saxophone and trombone.

Miss Brava and her big company of dancers won a big reception with the grace and beauty of their Spanish dances. The act is a wide departure from the usual dancing revues. It is offered in a pretty scenic setting and some costumes of rare beauty are worn. Several musical numbers of merit are sung effectively. Miss Brava, herself, scored a big hit with her original dances.

Another pleasing team on the new bill is that of Lou Brown and Muriel Rogers, two favorites in Atlanta. They appeared in a clever little skit entitled "The Clubman and the Trimmer," and they came in for much approval Monday. The skit bristles with clever lines and original comedy.

The Aerial Clarks presented a daring trapeze novelty with the work of pretty Miss Clark as the outstanding feature. Phil Davis, black-face comedian, told a bunch of funny stories and sang some late topical song hits.

The Constitution Masked Players contest entered its second phase Monday night when three screen stars were shown wearing masks. The film episodes in which these stars were introduced proved to be highly attractive to the audiences.

An Idea Which Became An Ideal

The idea which long actuated the conduct of The Constitution A-B-C Classified Section was to give service—to both reader and advertiser.

That idea has matured and blossomed into the present Ideal of Service.

This is not an impractical visionary ideal, beautiful to contemplate, yet unfitted to meet the every-day needs of the people.

Our Ideal of Service is the very essence of practicability, as is evidenced by certain steps we are taking—such as the censorship of unreliable advertising and the perfect classifying and indexing for quick reference of all offers inserted in this section. We are daily taking every possible step to further reader-convenience and enhance advertiser result-power.

Our Ideal of Classified Service is, in short, to make this section render as definite a public service as that rendered by the telephone or electric lighting companies.

Bargains Extraordinary
$9,000 Class
NOW WE ARE getting into the exclusive and high-class stuff—some folks call them the baby of the finest mansions, but here we go, anyway: There are something like 200 places listed with us at $11,000, but we are offering just six homes at $9,000 to $9,500, which we feel are the equal of any of these 200 $11,000 homes. They must be good to be classed as "baby mansions." And they are good, folks—something you would be proud to own. They are all located in exclusive sections, right along with the $12,000 and $15,000 homes, and you nor anybody else can tell the difference between these six bargains extraordinary and the average $10,000 and $11,000 homes. Suppose you check us up on what we say—take a look at these places and see if you don't agree with us. We don't want you to go and look at these places unless you are in the $9,000 class. In other words, this ad is intended for the prospective purchaser who has been looking at and considering homes priced to them at $9,000—we want to show you the difference between bargains extraordinary at $9,000 and just plain every-day bargains. Call Mr. Hagan today, or tonight at WAlnut 1600.
NOTE—Last week Grant-Jeter Company sold three of the $9,000 class. We'll furnish the purchasers' names as references to anyone considering the purchase of a home around $9,000.

Bargains Extraordinary
$15,000 to $25,000 Class
WE REFERRED to the "baby mansions" above. This ad refers to the real "full-grown mansions," and this ad is written for the consideration of the class who have been looking at the pick of Atlanta around $15,000 to $25,000. There are about 175 places listed with us at prices between $15,000 and $25,000, but there are just forty-one of these that come up to our idea of a bargain extraordinary in the $15,000 to $25,000 class. They range from two to five and six bedrooms, with all kinds of breakfast rooms, closets, floors, dens, libraries—well, you know what mansions usually have in them to make them measure up to what they are called. Just compare these bargains extraordinary with anything you have been looking at around $35,000 to $50,000, and you'll see something worth the money. Call Mrs. Scott today, or tonight at DE. 3422.

Complete Inquiry of Charges Against Aluminum Company Is Recommended By Walsh

Democrats Also Plan To Ask Attitude of Justice Department Toward Baking Merger.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, February 1.—Democrats are prepared to make an issue of the way the department of justice has handled the investigation of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's Aluminum Company of America, and possibly of the attitude toward a number of large combines, such as the Ward Food Products merger now taking place.

The vigor and good faith of the department of justice in the aluminum investigation are challenged by Senator Walsh, Montana, democrat, who conducted the senate judiciary committee's recent inquiry on the subject. In a report submitted Monday, Walsh declared "no business organization could tolerate such procrastination on the part of its legal bureau as has characterized the action of the department of justice," in the aluminum investigation. He recommended a complete inquiry by the senate committee of the federal trade commission's charges. The committee will decide Thursday whether to carry this request to the senate for authority.

Hunt Appointment Delayed.

Consideration of the appointment of Charles W. Hunt, of Iowa, to the federal trade commission has been put over until after the tax bill is disposed of, because a number of senators contemplate a lengthy fight to oppose confirmation. Hunt is serving under a recess appointment. He voted with the majority of the commission to bottle up the aluminum evidence. This has caused the republican insurgents and a good many democrats to oppose the appointment. The nomination came up in secret session Monday, but because of the prospect of a long debate, it was put aside in order to facilitate prompt action on the tax bill.

The bakery merger was brought to the attention of the senate by King, Utah democrat, who asked action on his resolution to investigate whether the department of justice has been diligent in prosecution of anti-trust violations.

Administration Indifferent.

"I don't expect the department of justice to act," King said. "They are asleep while these giant mergers are being formed. And the federal trade commission, created to prevent mergers, is encouraging them. The present administration is indifferent."

In his report Senator Walsh was severely critical of Attorney General Sargent for not having attached more importance to the charges which the federal trade commission had made against the Aluminum Company of America.

"It is not expected that the attorney general will be conversant with the details of all litigation before his department," Walsh said, "and he may well be entirely ignorant of some matters having or calling for its attention. But it is not too much to expect that he will at least be informed concerning a charge by his predecessor, and another branch of the government in effect, that a fellow member of the cabinet, at least a corporation of which he is the dominant factor, has been guilty of contemptuous disregard of an injunction of a federal court."

Sargent Defends Action.

In a letter to the senate, Attorney General Sargent said the department of justice has no authority to force the federal trade commission to turn over evidence in the aluminum case. Walsh therefore suggested that the senate demand the data and conduct the investigation itself.

The federal trade commission worked up the case against the aluminum company and gave out the substance of its findings. Then President Coolidge revamped the commission into a strictly conservative republican body, and it then voted to withhold the aluminum evidence from the department of justice, which wanted it for use in preparing its case.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT WILL CONVENE TODAY

BY CHARLES M. M'CANN.
United News Staff Correspondent.

London, February 1.—Britain's parliament will convene Tuesday and will soon be considering the threat of a general strike on May 1, which might take 4,500,000 workers away from their jobs.

King George will open parliament with a speech from the throne, in the midst of a picturesque pageant of color, such as is denied the citizens of republican governments. He will speak in the house of lords, but to members of both houses, as the commons will visit the upper chamber for the occasion. His progress from Buckingham palace to Westminster will be between cheering crowds.

Wales May Not Attend.

The Prince of Wales has not yet decided whether he will attend the state opening, but if he does, he will sit among the peers as a mere Duke of Cornwall, instead of beside the king on the dais. Among the peers, Wales can wear a loose fitting robe; if he sat as the Prince of Wales, he would be compelled to wear the skin-tight uniform of a colonel of the Welsh guards, which would expose his fractured collar bone to some discomfort.

King George will be clad in gorgeous robes of state. Queen Mary, less brilliantly attired, will sit beside him and the Duke of York will sit nearby. Facing them will be the peers in robes of scarlet and ermine, diplomats and members of the house of commons in full dress uniforms. Some members of the house of commons and the American and German ambassadors will strike a republican note by appearing in plain black evening dress.

LLOYD-GEORGE REELECTED AS LEADER OF LIBERALS.

London, February 1.—David Lloyd-George was reelected leader of the liberals on the eve of parliament's opening, and thus triumphed over the rebels within the thin ranks of his party.

The tiny remainder of the once powerful liberal faction voted 17 to 7 to retain Lloyd-George at their head. About a score of liberals abstained from voting. If the liberal party is to live again, Monday's probably represents its minimum poll.

Although the liberal party now consists principally of a few leaders with varying views, Lloyd-George again will be a center of interest when parliament meets Tuesday. This is due partly to the dissension within the liberal party, and partly to speculation and interest regarding the Welshman's political future.

SOLONS GREENHORNS SAYS JUDGE BRUCE

Madison, Wis., February 1.—(AP)—Our government is a government by greenhorns due to our political system and our feverish and dissatisfied democracy and our lack of reverence and religion is the cause of crime, said Judge Andrew A. Bruce, of Northwestern university law school, before the noonday clubs of Madison today.

"The curse of the American administration of the criminal law is our system of politics, our spoils system, the fact that the underworld has a vote as well as the upper world and above all the short tenure of office of all of our public officials," he declared.

"Our frequent elections and the necessity of begging for votes, make our politically-elected and controlled police officers and magistrates unwilling to enforce the law and they are looked upon as servants and insuperior government."

Local A. & P. Company Leads Dixie In Business Gain

B. F. Vinson, vice president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, head of the Atlanta units of the company, which leads all cities in the south in increased business for the last fiscal year.

Business of the Atlanta units of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company increased at a greater rate during the fiscal year of the company which is nearing an end than any units located in any other southern state, it was announced at the third annual banquet of the local company held at the Biltmore hotel Monday night. With seven weeks more left before the expiration of the fiscal year the Atlanta units show sales aggregating $13,000,000 which is 33 1-3 per cent greater than the quota fixed for the year.

Principal speakers at the banquet were B. F. Vinson, vice president of the A&P company, head of the Atlanta units; O. I. Black, superintendent; J. A. Meehan, purchasing agent; J. E. Bowler, office manager, and W. C. Mansfield, president Atlanta Milling company. W. L. Eldridge, sales manager, presided as toastmaster and in addition to these speakers called on many other guests for short talks.

In his talk Mr. Eldridge declared that the total sales of $13,000,000 reported thus far in the fiscal year exceed by $3,173,067 the quota of approximately $10,000,000 set for the year. During the calendar year 1925 the company opened 204 new stores in 53 cities in the south. The company advertises in more than 100 southern newspapers and belongs to nearly every chamber of commerce in this territory. In Atlanta alone the company pays $250,000 a year in rent and disburses an annual payroll here of $1,639,389, Mr. Eldridge pointed out. He gave credit for the great improvement record to the executive ability of Vice President Vinson who has directed the activities of this company in this section.

"No doubt you realize that other points in the country were developed to a great extent before the progress of the A&P in the south was started," Mr. Eldridge said. "It was realized that this was a more difficult problem, and our president, Mr. Hartford, waited a considerable time and made sure that he had the right man before he permitted development in the south. The figures that I have quoted show without the shadow of a doubt that he picked the right man.

"Not only has Mr. Vinson the ability to show wonderful results to develop an organization successfully, but he has that characteristic, which is more or less seldom seen in men, who are themselves successes, of endearing himself to those with whom he is associated. Probably, and I know in my own case it is true, we have never seen a man who could control and steer any organization on the rough waters of competition with less harshness and with less use of the whip.

"The successful man as a rule feels that it is necessary to show at all times that he is boss, that his superiority is supreme, and he seldom considers the feelings of his subordinates. We all really believe that Mr. Vinson stands almost alone in his ability to get the best out of his men, and out of his organization, with so little use of the spur and the bits, because his chief aim is to make the A&P a success in the south."

New Masked Players Film Stirs Interest in Contest

:: FIRST PICTURE ALSO IS SHOWN THIS WEEK ::

Crowds at Loew's Grand Monday enjoyed the special films showing screen stars in new episodes in The Constitution Masked Players contest just as much as they enjoyed the fine vaudeville bill and picture program judging from their expressions when the second group of masked players was flashed on the screen.

All who desire to enter the contest can do so this week, as Loew's Grand theater is showing the five players in the first group and the three players who appear in this week's group. The Constitution is printing a special coupon which contains spaces for the names of the eight players who have appeared in the contest to date and also space for a slogan for each which must accompany the name of each player.

Some decidedly original film tricks are used to introduce the three stars appearing in this week's group. The first was presented in a portrait painting scene; the second, a girl, was shown for a few seconds in a mirror while riding in an automobile, and the third, a famous "hero" of the screen, was shown driving a chariot in a chariot race in "Ben Hur."

The screen star in the portrait scene was hailed by Artist Howard Chandler Christy as the screen's greatest beauty. She's appearing in the second group with Artist Christy himself painting her. She is famous for roles like those in "Yolanda," "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "Little Old New York" and "Lights of Old Broadway."

The Constitution is offering $600 in prizes in the contest, the first prize being $125. All you have to do is to guess the names of the masked players in the four groups which will be shown at Loew's Grand. There are 20 Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stars in the contest and after they are identified each is to be provided with a slogan. The prizes will go to those who send in the best list of slogans for the stars whose names are guessed correctly.

Ward Praises Methodists For Their Work in Belgium

"The finest piece of Protestant Christian work that has been done in Belgium in 300 years is being done today by the Methodist Episcopal church, south," declared William Ward, of London, England, honorary president of the World Federation Brotherhood, Monday night in an address which marked the opening of the men's regional conference at the Wesley Memorial Methodist church.

A large audience made up of laymen and ministers of the north and south Georgia conferences greeted the opening of this fifth of a series of sixteen regional conferences being conducted throughout the south by the general board of lay activities.

Mr. Ward told in an interesting way how he came to be connected with the brotherhood movement in England and then told of its growth.

"The brotherhood movement grew in England until in 1914 we had 2,000 societies and 500,000 members," he said. "We carried 260 brotherhood men from England over to France, where we held religious meetings in some of the great industrial cities. A French pastor told us that if we tried to speak in Lille there would be riot and bloodshed. We got permission to hold our services in the Socialist hall and 2,000 men were there to hear our message. At the close of the service, a man arose and led that great crowd in cheers for world peace, and the men pledged that there would be no more war between England and France. Then they cheered the sentiment of world brotherhood, and closed by cheering for Jesus Christ. Up to that time practically every socialist trades union in the vicinity of Lille had a clause in its constitution which barred a church member from membership in the union, and that is why the Catholics organized a separate trades union. After our brotherhood campaign in northern France, that clause was stricken from those constitutions."

Mr. Ward told of the organization of the national brotherhood council of England and Wales, the purpose of which was to bring into one federated organization all of the existing brotherhoods in England and Wales. Then came the world war, which destroyed many of the brotherhoods in England and on the continent. Since the war the movement has become quite active and several world brotherhood conferences have been held, one in London, one in Washington and one in Prague, the capital of Czecho-Slovakia.

It was at the World Brotherhood conference in London, in 1919, that the late Bishop James Atkins, John R. Pepper, of Memphis, and Dr. Beauchamp, now the bishop in charge of the Methodist church work in Europe, met Mr. Ward and other leaders of the World Brotherhood federation, and Mr. Ward gave much valuable assistance to these men in laying the foundations of the Methodist work in Belgium, Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.

Mr. Ward expressed the deepest interest in the success of the new men's organization in the Methodist Episcopal church, south, known as the Wesley Brotherhood. He said that the hand-book of the Wesley Brotherhood of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, is the most practicable and statesmanlike document that he had ever read.

The conference will open at 9 o'clock this morning and after the devotional exercises and an opening statement by Mr. Morelock, there will be the following addresses: "The Wesley Brotherhood," by Fred T. Barnett; "Christian Stewardship," by Dr. J. E. Crawford; "Missionary Message," by Mr. Morelock.

Open forum discussions on these three themes will be conducted in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Mr. Ward will make a brief address in the afternoon. The conference will close tonight with an address by Sir Richard Winfrey, for more than 20 years a member of the British parliament and one of the outstanding Christian laymen of Europe.

The general public is invited to attend all sessions of the conference, and a large number of out-of-town delegates are expected to be present today.

Sampey Speaks On Mission Work In South America

The monthly meeting of the Atlanta Baptist council, composed of Baptist ministers and representatives of Atlanta churches, held Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce building was featured by an address by Dr. John R. Sampey, for more than 40 years a professor in the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, at Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Sampey spoke on "Mission Conditions in South America." He spoke for more than an hour and a half, describing in detail the present conditions of missions in that country and tracing the history of missions there. The meeting was attended by a group of 175 Baptist leaders from Atlanta and many out-of-town visitors.

In addition to the address by Dr. Sampey a number of others made short talks. These included the Rev. M. D. Reed, of Norcross; the Rev. J. H. Bush, of Jonesboro; the Rev. A. J. Johnson, of Jefferson; and Dr. B. D. Gray, Dr. Arch C. Cree, S. F. Etheridge, M. G. Campbell, Dr. W. H. Major and Paul S. Etheridge, of Atlanta.

Dr. Sampey was introduced by Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church. Dr. Daniel paid him high tribute. He was formerly a student under Dr. Sampey at the Southern Baptist seminary. Louie D. Newton, editor of the Christian Index, presided.

Although Dr. Sampey has spent the greater part of his life as an instructor, he spent four months last summer in South America as a missionary and gave much time and study to conditions there. Much of his address Monday night was of experiences incidental to his trip to South America.

In an address Monday morning before the Baptist Ministers' association, Dr. Sampey urged the necessity of preparation for any sort of evangelistic work.

Philadelphia, February 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Jennie Marshall, wife of David L. Marshall, slayer of Anna May Dietrich, who immediately after her husband's confession, was said to have renounced him, today declared she would stick by him.

"He is my husband and I will stick by him," she told inquirers. "He is the father of our little girl, and he was my first sweetheart. We have been married 20 years and have always lived together happily. I will not desert him now, even if he did deceive me."

Marshall admitted last week choking to death the 35-year-old milliner in his chiropractic office January 16 and of dismembering her body to conceal the crime.
